

All the news,
While it's news.

State Librarian
Vol.

65443
August 31, 1914.
The Daily Republican

Weather
Cloudy tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Rushville, Indiana, Thursday Evening, January 1, 1914.

Single Copies, 2 Cents.

CATTLE FROM CANADA HERE

Three Car Loads to be Fed For Markets Shipped Into Rush
County in Last Few Weeks.

CHEAPER THAN THEY'RE HERE

Argentina Corn and Canadian Oats
Also Imported Because of Reduction in the Tariff.

Because of reductions in the tariff made by the bill passed by the Democratic Congress the latter part of 1913, Canadian cattle are being shipped into Rush county already and corn from Argentina and oats from Canada are coming into Indiana to compete with home-grown products of the same class.

Three car loads of Canadian cattle have been received in Rush county in the last few weeks. One Washington township farmer has received one car load of heifers to fatten for the market. He does not care to have his name divulged. He says that the Canadian cattle were bought from twenty-five to forty cents on the hundred cheaper than the prevailing price on the Chicago markets at that time.

Another Rush county farmer and stock buyer, formerly of Washington township, but now a resident of Rushville, has had shipped in two carloads of Canadian cattle to feed for the market. He bought them there because he could get them cheaper than he could in the United States.

Indianapolis newspaper contain accounts of the shipment into Indianapolis of corn from Argentina and oats from Canada. The price of corn is off three cents now and some people are disposed to believe that the importation of corn has something to do with the drop.

Many farmers here are not disposed to believe that any foreign-grown corn or oats will be shipped into Rushville or Rush county. Indianapolis importers plead that the reason for buying corn abroad is the fact that the shortage in the crop this year has made importation necessary to supply the demands. But many Rush county farmers take this with a grain of salt because the new law passed by Congress removed the former tariff of twenty cents a bushel on corn.

Several million bushels are either now in the seaboard ports or on the way from Buenos Aires, the South American city from which all shipments of grain are made. It is pointed out by Indiana importers that the Argentina produce is more nearly round than the domestic product and is more translucent. It is harder and keeps better than corn grown here, although it is not as high in starch values, according to importers. This shortage in starch is almost offset by the amount of glucose it contains, he said.

The removal of the tariff on grains permitted Indiana importers to ship into the United States millions of oats from Canada to compete with oats grown in the country. This increase in supply, as well as the fact that oats is grown cheaper there than here, is bound to reduce the price of oats, here it is pointed out. Indiana importers declare Canadian oats are superior to the oats of this country in every way.

There will be a Box Social at Red Men's hall New Year's night given by the social committee for the benefit of Lurline council. Members of the council and Red Men and families invited. Mabel Flint, Keeper of Records.

NEW SHERIFF IN OFFICE

Cigars and Apples Plentiful Today at Court House.

Voorhees Cavitt took up his duties as county sheriff this morning and with his deputy, Thomas Sullivan held open house in the office at the court house. Apples and cigars were passed and the new sheriff and his deputy had many callers. C. L. Bebout, the retiring sheriff turned five prisoners over to the new sheriff. One of the five was released today at noon his time having expired. All of the men were fined in police court for public intoxication.

PROF. OGG TO GIVE TWO ADDRESSES

Will Discuss Silo and Soil Fertility at Farmers Institute at Orange School House Tuesday.

OTHERS THINGS OF INTEREST

The Orange township farmer's institute will be held in the school house, in Orange, next Tuesday, January 6, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Prof. Ogg of Greencastle, will deliver two addresses on the subjects "The Silo" and "How to Maintain the Fertility of the Soil." Miss Elizabeth Stanley, of Liberty, will speak in the morning on "The Farmer's Wife, a Business Partner." Her subject for the afternoon session will be "Are we a Christian Nation? Why and Why Not." The High school orchestra will furnish music and several pupils of the schools will contribute to the excellent program. A big basket dinner at noon will be of the occasion. All interested are invited to attend. Roland Murray is township chairman.

AGED WOMAN DIES NEAR RICHLAND

Mother of Mrs. John E. Harrison
Passes Away After Short Illness—Four Children Survive.

MOST OF LIFE SPENT HERE

Mrs. Jane Harrison, 86 years old, widow of the late J. B. Harrison, and mother of John E. Harrison, county commissioner, and I. O. Harrison, died this morning at ten o'clock at her home near Richland. Mrs. Harrison had been in poor health for some time and was taken seriously ill last Sunday. Death was due to senility. Mrs. Harrison came to this county with her parents from Kentucky when four years old and lived here ever since. She would have been eighty-seven year old February 3.

Besides John E. Harrison and I. O. Harrison of this county, she is survived by three other children, Miss Martha Harrison, Ira Harrison of Illinois and William Harrison of Washington state. The funeral services have not been completed.

John D. Hiner today took possession of the Davis Brothers livery barn which he purchased recently. He will continue to operate his other barn at the corner of Julian and Second streets, but the light livery will be done from the new barn. Orders will be filled at either barn, however.

Rushville Writes Constituents of New Year's Resolutions

Mr. and Mrs. Population:

I have been thinking for some time of making some resolutions, but I can't see where I am to gain by it unless I have your undivided attention and efforts. Today's the psychological time for those things, but, of course, I can't accomplish anything without YOU. Are you with me?

I am going to do a little resolving, and with you at my heels, catching me whenever I falter, I hope to accomplish a lot of things. Resolving can do no one harm, but I am going to do more than that—resolve and get away with it.

I am a great lover of Kipling. There was a passage flitting through my head only the other night. I had no complete set of his works and I grabbed my hat and started for the library. I set my head on learning that passage while I thought of it.

With my head down thinking, I came to the entrance to the court house and never even so much as looked up when I reached the door, but stuck my hand out intuitively to push it open. Biff! I ran smack jam into the glass door, and if it had not been plate, there would have been a hole there to this day to bear silent testimony to my clumsiness.

Well, thought I, here's resolution No. 1. I want a Carnegie library. There's nothing on earth to hinder me from gaining my desires if my people have gumption enough to take advantage of opportunities. I was grinding my teeth because the library was not open that night. Well, it's open only two nights, I thought, and if there is ever a time it should be open, it's at night. If ever there's a time when the library should be accessible, it's when the people who have time for nothing but toiling in the day, might visit it. The other folks have all the library they want of their own.

Then I philosophied, what if I could get into the library? True, there would be that Kipling, but I would see cramped quarters that are far too small for me. I wouldn't want to take Carthage, Connersville, Newcastle or some of my other friends in to see it. I would be ashamed. Not only that—I deserve a better place than that to develop my intellectual self. Why every town around me is better fixed. Let's see: there's Shelbyville, Greensburg, Brookville, Connersville, Newcastle, Greenfield, Knightstown and Carthage—every one with a public library. Actually, when I contemplate too long, I almost get ashamed of you—my own people.

But I've made up my mind I'll have one in 1914, if I can count on you. Just a site is all it will cost us. Just consider that—only a site. It will cost my council not a cent more than the present library for upkeep. Why it's such a simple thing. I don't see why I've overlooked it for so long.

Not wishing to seem abrupt, but a man chased into my place of business the other day and said he had a live industrial proposition he wanted to present. I interrupted him—by grabbing his hand and saying come on in? No. By just plain weeping—sobbing all over the place. What could I do with an individual like this? Not a lieutenant to send him to. I shoved him out the door and gave him a kick. I asked him not to remember me too harshly, but it was the best I could do. My people had never instructed me to do otherwise.

Then I pulled out my little scratch pad and made a little memorandum: Resolution No. 2.—a commercial club that is a COMMERCIAL CLUB. Why there's nothing to prevent me from having an organization of boosters like my sisters around here! My people are just as wide awake as their's. Honestly, people, I feel that you do me an injustice. The Retail Merchants association blazed the trail and it does look like you ought to have a commercial organization that is looking after my interests night and day. 1914 is the year to do it in. Show me that you still think a little bit of me. My pride has been trampled considerably already.

I looked back through my scratch pad and found that the pages were filling up rapidly. I had only a few more left and I jotted this down: "Resolution No. 3. Give me some more paved streets, 1914, there's nothing like 'em." I helped the Good Fellows out some this last Christmas, and I never before realized the condition of my streets. Why, I found some places where automobiles hesitated. But when I got back in Main or Perkins or in the paved parts of Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Third, Second and Buena Vista avenue, I was so happy.

Then I recalled that some of my people were going to build a block and half of concrete street in the early spring. I was depressed at first, but thoughts of this aroused me. I should be optimistic, of course. As soon as my people realize what a joy concrete streets are, they will be building them every place. My, how proud I would be if First, the rest of Third, Morgan, the rest of Perkins and a few other streets were paved in 1914. I tell you, there's no reason why this 1914 shouldn't do a lot for us.

I heard a great hurrah and paused in my reverie. I glanced out the window and saw a gigantic cedar sticking its head up in the court house yard. Yes, it was a Christmas tree. It was fine, great, this expression of the holiday spirit, but I had a vision. How that old evergreen set off the court house yard! The lawn was converted into a garden in my mind's eye. If that old cedar will do what it has, what would several trees and a few flower beds do to that bleak lawn?

Well, I'll just fill up this memorandum with resolutions, I thought, so I made another one for my people. There's no doubt but that I am lacking in this respect. I need something on my court house lawn.

And I had numberless other visions, but my scratch pad was almost full. I dreamed how the city park could be beautified, how homes could be made more artistic and how the biggest half of my people could be Good Fellows to the small unfortunate half next Christmas, but here—my memorandum space is all gone—so I must bid 1913 goodbye and await results of 1914.

Thankfully,

MISS RUSHVILLE.

TREW CHAIR AT HIS WIFE

Howard Glore Went to Jail as Result of Fight.

Howard Glore threw a chair at his wife last night and was unable to pay a fine of one dollar and costs and went to jail for ten days because of his act. Glore was arrested this morning on complaint of his wife by policeman Wolter and was taken before Squire Kratzer. The charge was assault and battery. Mr. and Mrs. Glore had a free-for-all at their home, corner of Fourth and Arthur streets and in the course of events he threw a chair at her. Mrs. Glore sustained a painful bruise as a result and the chair was broken into four pieces.

POLICE WERE BUSY DURING PAST YEAR

Total of Fifty-Two Men Appeared
Before Mayor Black in 1913—
Majority For Intoxication.

WAS DECREASE OVER 1912

A total of fifty-two men faced Mayor Black in police court during the year 1913. The police arrested this many but the record of Squire Kratzer is not included. He probably had more cases than the mayor. Of the fifty-two arrested a majority were for intoxication as is usually the case. Thirty-eight of the total were arrested for public intoxication. The other charges including assault and battery, speeding, one blind tiger charge and one charge of having unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors.

The arrests in 1913 did not equal those made in 1912. In 1912 a total of seventy-two men faced Mayor Black. As was the case in that year a majority were for intoxication. The city has been without saloons since the first of last April and this may account for the decrease in the number of arrests.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED 40 TIMES

False Alarms Averaged 1 to Month
During Year 1913—Greatest Loss at Masonic Temple.

MORE WORK THAN IN 1912

The fire department answered a total of forty alarms during the year just past. Of this total twelve were false alarms and twenty-eight were fires. There were six fires in which the department was not called. This is the largest number of fires ever recorded in the history of the department, according to William Moffett, who has been connected with the department for many years. That the department was kept busy is shown because in the year 1912 there were but 22 alarms. Included in the forty calls are five still alarms.

The greatest loss from fire was at the Masonic Temple fire of July 20. The loss here was given at $55,000 with about $35,000 insurance. Other fires during the year were at the Dr. Coleman residence where on January 4, a loss of $600 was caused, and the Curry store in West Second street where a loss of $350 was sustained on Oct. 22. The fire department laid a total of 7050 feet of hose in answering the forty calls.

REV. C. M. YOCUM HOLDS RECORD

Main Street Christian Pastor Marries 53 of 120 Couples Applying
For Marriage Licenses in 1913.

REV. W. H. WYLIE IS SECOND

Most Marriage Licenses Are Issued
During November and December
When There Are Holidays.

The Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, deserves the title of "marrying minister" in Rush county. There were a hundred and twenty marriage licenses issued in the year just closed and he officiated at fifty-three of the ceremonies, almost half of them.

This is the rate of one marriage a week for the year and one more for good measure. Twelve of the number were in December and nine in August. He officiated at only thirty-six marriages in 1912.

The most licenses for any month in 1913 were issued in December. The second month for number of licenses was November. It is an infallible custom that the month with the two holidays—Christmas and Thanksgiving—are those when the most young people want to be joined in wedlock.

The Rev. W. H. Wylie, who retired as pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church in September, performed the second highest number of marriages in the county during 1913. He was the minister at twelve marriages and the Rev. V. W. Tevis, superintendent of the Connersville district of the M. E. church, was third with ten marriages.

The Rev. J. B. Meacham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and James Kratzer, justice of the peace, tied for fourth place with eight marriages each for the year. The Rev. Clyde S. Black, pastor of the M. E. church, was fifth with seven marriages.

Continued on Page 8.

All Things Come to Him Who Works

Just think of that phrase a moment, Mr. Dealer.

Then you might supplement it with this thought—that all things come more easily to the man who works intelligently.

That means that when the manufacturers of a nationally distributed product comes into the newspapers of your town to make a market for your goods it is time for you to help.

That is INTELLIGENT WORK.

It is easier to sell goods with which the public is made acquainted through the newspapers. There is at least a natural curiosity to see them.

Move with the tide, not against it. The going is easier.

Show the goods. Use the newspapers and by all means use your counters and your windows to advantage.

Merchandise along the line of demand. The sales will take care of themselves and the manufacturer is going to have a warm spot in his heart for you. He is going to keep your town and your store in mind the next time he embarks on an educational campaign.

CONFERENCE WITH WILSON

John Lind, Special Envoy to Mexico,
Due to Arrive at Pass, Christian, Miss., Late Today.

MYSTERY SHROUDS HIS VISIT

Washington Does Not Even Venture a Comment on the Probabilities of the Meeting.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Officials at the state department venture no comment upon the forthcoming meeting between President Wilson and John Lind, his special agent in Mexico. It is indicated that outside of the two men concerned no one here knows what course their discussion may take. Mr. Bryan, who has returned from Miami for two days in Washington, declined to comment on Mr. Lind's visit to the president or on the Mexican situation in any particular.

Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 1.—There will be a conference between President Wilson and Confidential Agent John Lind today in the cozy living room of Beaulieu, the winter White House, but with regard to the hour and place of the interview the midwinter capital officials are profoundly silent. Plans for the conference may be changed at any minute, and for that reason at all costs advance news of what Mr. Lind has to communicate must be suppressed. No inkling is given of the reason for this stifling atmosphere of secrecy.

At Beaulieu not even a suggestion of the most meager detail is allowed to escape. Of course the fact that Mr. Lind's coming at all gained circulation through the medium of the press is resented.

It is generally accepted here that Mr. Lind's mission to Mexico is ended. Whether success or failure has crowned his efforts is as much in doubt as it was the day he landed in Vera Cruz five months ago. Based upon the advice thus far received from Mexico, there is little inclination to believe that Mr. Lind's coming to Pass Christian is for purposes of jubilation. There is, though, the possibility that he comes to tell the president that Provisional President Huerta has at last made some definite proposal tending toward a solution of the long-standing muddle. But from the recent halt in the development of the Carranza campaign, which has seemingly come to a stop right when victory and a runaway race into the Mexican capital was imminent, the likelihood that Mr. Lind has pleasant news to communicate is most remote.

The summer yesterday sailed from the Gulfport pier for the open waters of the gulf. It is known that she will cruise just outside Ship Island, there to pick up Mr. Lind.

THE BATTLE OF OJINAGA

Rebel Forces Continue to Have Apparent Advantage.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 1.—Upon resuming the attack on Ojinaga the Mexican rebels used their artillery with telling effect. Previously the battle had been fought, so far as the rebels were concerned, with small arms. There had been a general effort on the part of the rebels to take the town by assault, but with the arrival of their field pieces they opened a furious bombardment from several quarters and were replied to by the federals with cannon and rifle fire.

The rebel fire was well directed and from the American side seemed to be exploding directly over many of the federal fortifications. In return the federals several times drove the rebel gunners back from their pieces, but the accurate shots were not frequent enough to prevent the rebel artillery regaining their pieces and putting them into operation again.

During the fighting some of the rebels worked their way close to the American border and they shouted to the American officers that they soon would be in possession of Ojinaga. They seemed gradually to be gaining ground.

Deserters from the federals at Ojinaga say the money sent to Ojinaga two weeks ago to pay off the soldiers was only enough to pay part of them a small sum, and hundreds of them did not get a cent. In speaking of the battle Monday they say there must have been 200 or 300 killed on the federal side, and those who were wounded so badly that they were unable to get away by themselves were left on the field. The deserters state that there have been many desertions and that there will be many more if they get a chance.

Wounded federals and rebels from the battle may be sent to El Paso on special trains and cared for by the El Paso branch of the American Red Cross, if the number of wounded is too large to be cared for properly in Ojinaga or Presidio. C. J. O'Conner, national representative of the American Red Cross at Presidio, is preparing to care for from 300 to 1,000 wounded.

ALFRED H. SMITH
New Head of New York Central Railway Is on the Job Today.

INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM GRAVELY CONDEMNED

Government Special Agent
Sounds Alarm.

Washington, Jan. 1.—With alternating day and night work every two weeks the twelve-hour mill shift is creating in America a class but little better than slaves, Basil M. Manly, special agent of the United States bureau of labor, declared before the convention of the American Association for Labor Legislation.

"These slaves," he said, "are worn out faster than those who used to work on the plantations of the south, and are more effectually debarded from the common pleasures of life than inmates of our penal institutions."

Manly advocated legislation to force manufacturers in continuous industries to install three eight-hour shifts instead of two twelve-hour shifts, claiming that the efficiency of the organization is so improved that the extra labor cost is overcome.

J. P. Chamberlain of New York made an address favoring compulsory sickness insurance, estimating that workmen in the United States lose $24,750,000 a year through illness and a consequent money loss of $792,592,800.

PLAYED A SMOOTH GAME

Office Manager and Clerk Get Away
With Firm's Money.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Police in many cities have been wired to keep a sharp lookout for Sidney B. Harrison and Alice E. Malone, who are charged with the embezzlement of $32,000 from the brokerage firm of N. L. Carpenter & Co., whose main office is in New York. The firm had a branch office in Washington with Harrison in charge and Miss Malone acting as head clerk. While the amount of the embezzlement is now fixed in the complaint at $32,000, it is likely to be in excess of that sum. George Barrett of New York, who came down to audit the accounts of the office, claims to have discovered a number of fictitious entries and believes the defalcations will total more than $40,000.

According to the auditor, the embezzlement was accomplished through a number of accounts opened with the firm in fictitious names.

Smith Succeeds Brown.

New York, Jan. 1.—With the coming of the new year Alfred H. Smith formally assumed the office of president of the New York Central railroad lines. W. C. Brown retired at the same time from this position.

It Is Now Viscount Bryce.

London, Jan. 1.—James Bryce, until recently British ambassador at Washington, is among those elevated to the peerage in the New Year's honors. The noted statesman will be known in future as Viscount Bryce.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States
weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m.
yesterday follow:

Temp.	Weather.
New York..... 34	Pt. Cloudy
Boston..... 34	Cloudy
Denver..... 14	Pt. Cloudy
San Francisco.. 56	Rain
St. Paul..... 20	Cloudy
Chicago..... 32	Cloudy
Indianapolis... 26	Cloudy
St. Louis..... 32	Cloudy
New Orleans... 48	Cloudy
Washington... 34	Cloudy

Unsettled.

County News Sexton and Vicinity.

Our Xmas entertainment was well attended. Several nice presents were received off of the tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson of Newcastle spent Xmas with his parents O. C. Thompson and wife.

W. B. Kirkpatrick and family spent last Friday with W. W. Webster and family of near Ogden.

J. B. Gilson and family and Ross Reeves were Sunday guests of S. D. Kirkpatrick and wife.

Misses Myra Newkirk, Laura Bowen Hazel Kiser, Messrs Garland Newkirk, Bert Bowen, Orville Porter attended the K. of P. dance at Rushville Xmas afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Enos spent Xmas with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Major south of Rushville.

Fred Oldham and family were Sunday guests of W. B. Kirkpatrick and family.

Alf Frye and family spent Sunday with his parents, A. M. Frye and wife.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Whitton Mrs. Druzilla McKee were Sunday guests of Al Sharpe and family of near Gings.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilhelm spent Sunday with Fred Bullen and family of near Lewisville.

Several from here attended the concert at Mays Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Omas McDaniel spent Tuesday with Thos. Wilhelm and family.

Robt Bell and family called on Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will move soon to a farm east of Rushville.

Mrs. T. B. Scott, Mrs. A. M. Frye spent Tuesday afternoon with Alma Frye.

Miss Hazel Kiser spent last Friday with Miss Lillie Bell.

Miss Vera Kiser spent the weekend with Elmer Kiser and family of Dunreith.

Miss Goldia Abernathy spent Xmas with home folks.

Clarence Pauly and Miss Hazel Kiser spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitton entertained last Friday night the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McBride, Mr. and Mrs. Omas McDaniel and son William, Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis, son Rosecoe, Mr. and Mrs. Robt Bell daughter, Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grubbs, son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Frye daughters Lois and Beatrice and Mrs. Leonard. Refreshments of apples, candy and dates were served. Several nice selections were played on the Graphonola.

Mauzy.

Wm. B. Morris is visiting his sister at Columbia City, Whitley county.

George Gray made a business trip to Jasper county last week.

Rev. M. V. Grisso preached at Ben Davis Creek next Sunday, January 4th, morning and evening. Sunday school at 10 a. m. All are welcome.

Mrs. Harvey Walls and children have returned to their home in Knightstown, after several days sojourn with her sister, Mrs. Wm. B. Morris.

Herbert and Lawrence Allen of Indianapolis are visiting Clifford Mauzy.

Sumner.

Paul Miller is convalescent, since having the pneumonia.

Marshall Barnard and family, of Franklin, spent Xmas with home-folks.

Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Hester spent Xmas with their daughter, Mrs. Delphia Hester and family at Indianapolis, then went, Saturday, to spend a few days with their daughter, Mrs.

Cora Foulke and family at Sheridan, where Mr. Hester conducted a quarterly Meeting at the W. M. Church.

Revival services closed at the Friends church and Rev. Wilcox will begin a revival at the U. B. church at Henderson, this week.

Howard F. Pressnall and family and Charles VanZandt, of Indianapolis, were entertained with a turkey dinner at D. M. Pressnall's Xmas day.

Albert McMichael and family took turkey dinner with Mrs. Sarah McMichael and family, Xmas.

Albert Rigsbee and mother are visiting in Iowa.

Born to Mrs. T. S. Macy, a girl.

Mrs. Esther Lineback and son, Farrel, spent a few days in Charlottesville.

There will be a cottage prayer-meeting at J. W. Zike's, next Friday night.

Lee H. Macy and family spent Thursday at E. C. Macy's.

Mrs. Emily Rigsbee is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edith Eddy and family at Boxley.

Mrs. Emma Rigsbee and baby visited Lee Rigsbee and family, near Fairmount, a few days.

PUTS BAN ON CELEBRATION

Catholic Priest Says New Years'
Reverly is Sin.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 1.—Putting New Years' eve reverly and debauchery under the ban of the Catholic church, Bishop Joseph Chartrand declared that Catholics who engage in such orgies are guilty of a mortal sin.

"The end of the year is a time for the most serious meditation on the brevity of man's life, on the exalted purpose of man's existence," said the Bishop. "There is a growing disposition on the part of some persons to make the last night of the year one of dishonor to God and of moral danger of souls."

HE SLIPPED UP ON WALDO

Mayor Fired Police Commissioner Before He Could Resign.

New York, Jan. 1.—Rhinelander Waldo was bounced yesterday as police commissioner by Mayor Kline, and Douglas I. McKay, formerly deputy police commissioner, was appointed in his place for a term of five years. McKay, however, desires to hold office only until John Purroy Mitchel, who this morning was inducted into office as mayor, has picked the man for the head of the police department.

The order of removal of Waldo became effective an hour ahead of the time set by Waldo for his resignation to become effective. Waldo was relieved for insubordination. Mayor Kline accused him first of having issued an order practically dismantling police headquarters of all the various squads and of the various experts in different lines. Secondly, he charged him with refusing to reappoint McKay as a deputy police commissioner in order that McKay might automatically become acting police commissioner until Mitchel got a man for the job.

Mitchel was incensed at the conduct of Waldo when he learned of the events. He said: "It is the greatest outrage ever perpetrated on any incoming administration for the head of a department to run away and to denude the department of the line of succession and leave the city prostrate. The attempt was checked, however."

SLIPPED UP BEHIND HIM

Telegraph Operator at Village Station
Beaten by Robbers.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 1.—After being bound and gagged and thrown into a cellar under the station, Jack Orick, a telegraph operator for the Grand Trunk railway at Granger, succeeded in liberating himself soon after daylight. Two masked men had slipped up behind him in the Granger station, about midnight, making him a prisoner in the cellar, after they had beaten him into unconsciousness. They obtained less than $5 for their trouble, taking the money from the operator's pocket after he had lost consciousness.

It was thought the thieves had been attracted to the station because of the presence of a safe in the ticket office, which, however, they were unable to open.

For applications for registration of automobiles, see J. V. Young, Suit 3 over Rush County National Bank. 241110.

THE RUSHVILLE NATIONAL BANK

is just beginning on its 50th YEAR of strong, successful and progressive management and operation as a National Bank. Previous to that it was conducted for about EIGHT YEARS as a branch of the "Bank of the State of Indiana."

We will subscribe to the Capital Stock of the new "Federal Reserve Bank" of the district as soon as the proper legal blanks can be obtained.

Under the New Banking and Currency Law each individual bank must stand on its own merits, as before. If you are not established with us, we invite your careful consideration.

Rushville National Bank

Northeast Corner Main and Second Streets.

Hargrove & Mullin - Drugs

Quality First

"The Store for Particular People."

If your skin becomes rough dry or chapped from exposure to inclement weather or from any other cause, you will be greatly pleased to see how one application of

RAYMOND CHAP

Will heal, soften and beautify. This preparation is nicely perfumed, quickly absorbed, healing and soothing, imparting a texture of velvety smoothness and fresh appearance of perfect health.

3 ounce bottle 15c

7 ounce bottle 25c

Christmas is Over

Now is the time to have your clothes cleaned, altered and pressed. Also corsets and white gloves. We clean rugs and make them look as good as new.

20th Century Cleaners and Pressers

Phone 1154. Rear of Old Rushville National Bank Bldg.

THE HOME OF Quality Groceries

We Wish You a Prosperous and
Happy New Year

Start it Right!

Place Your First Grocery Order for 1914

With the Home of Quality Groceries

And Stick to all Your Good Resolutions!

FRED COCHRAN, Grocer

Women Driving Automobiles

should always be sure their machines are in first-class condition. For there is no getting down under the auto for them if things go wrong on the road. The only safe way is to have an overhaul regularly. Even if there should be nothing needing repairs, you'll feel more confident after we have examined it.

William E. Bowen
Phone 1364

NEW YEAR BANKING PLANS

If you contemplate opening a new account or changing your banking relations at the beginning of the New Year, the officers of this bank will be pleased to confer with you regarding the facilities it affords.

Whether accounts are large or of moderate volume, every depositor in this bank receives a service suited to his individual needs. Prompt and courteous attention is a feature of our service.

The Rush County National Bank

Rushville, Indiana

L. LINK, President W. E. HAVENS, Vice-Pres.
L. M. SEXTON, Cashier B. L. TRABUE, Asst. Cash.

Society News

Miss Edith Aull entertained a number of friends last evening with a watch party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Walter Flint, who, with her husband will leave next week for residence in Reardon, Ohio.

Miss Helen Scudder entertained fifteen or twenty couples of young people with an informal dancing party at the Social club last evening in honor of her guests, Miss Mary Brady of Delphus, Ohio, and J. W. Miller of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gohring have been entertaining as guests at their home in West Second street, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gohring of Denison, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. X. H. Gohring and Carl Mattern of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keener of Newcastle, and Miss Edith Short of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King entertained with a turkey dinner Xmas day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Willard King and daughters, Leila and Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lefforge and sons, Anges and Lowell, Miss Myrta Gustin of Terre Haute, Miss Vonnice Bowen, Paul Morris and Lowell Norris.

Miss Katherine Gohring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gohring and Carl Mattern were married last night at the home of the bride's parents in West Second street, by the Rev. Mr. Schmidt of the German-Lutheran church, Indianapolis. Both are well known young people. Mr. Mattern first met his bride last summer while playing ball for the Rushville team. The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate family. Mr. and Mrs. Mattern will be at home at 341 Sanders street, Indianapolis.

One of the most charming entertainments of the season was given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Meta Smith. To the lovers of music and education, it was indeed a treat. In our admiration for foreign artists we sometimes forget those nearer home. Truly, Harold McClanahan is highly gifted and we venture to prophesy one day he will be known across the sea. The exceeding brilliance of his performance astonished even those who know him best. And Miss Frances Frazee excels in her line. Her numbers showed talent as well as careful study. The sleepy child with his endless "why, why," reminded parents of other inquisitive youngsters. The thanks and appreciation of the audience will follow these young people through the new year as will also the hope that each will attain the summit of their ambition.

One of the pretty weddings of the season was that of Miss Lillian Rea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Rea to Frederick E. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Martin at the home of the bride's parents, north of Falmouth New Year's eve. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. T. Seull of Milroy, assisted by the Rev. T. W. Seedy of Falmouth. Preceding the ceremony Miss Mariam Brown played "Annie Laurie." As the bridal procession descended the stair, Miss Brown played Lohengrin's wedding march and during the ceremony, "Humoresque," followed by Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride's attendants were Miss Lillian R. Overhiser, of Indianapolis, maid of honor; Miss Mary Caldwell, a cousin of the bride, of near Richmond, bride's maid. Orville Martin, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The bride wore a dainty gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed in shadow lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. The maid of honor wore a rose crepe de chine gown, with an over-dress of rose chiffon. Miss Caldwell wore a white crepe de chine gown, trimmed in shadow lace and rose buds. Both attendants carried bouquets of pink roses.

The house was decorated in the wedding colors of pink and white. The bridal party stood before an embankment of fern and smilax. About eighty guests were present. Those from a distance were Mrs. George M. Overhiser of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Elizabeth Morris of Hoyt, Kansas. A reception will be given for Mr. and Mrs. Martin at the home of his parents.

"IN A MINUTE, MY DEAR."

A wife's failure to be ready on time does not justify her husband in striking her. Judge Foell of Chicago has so ruled. He granted a decree to Mrs. Rose Watkins, who said her husband hit her on the nose when she was not dressed when she said she would be.

Watered Talk.

Probably there is nothing under the sun which is the basis of so large a number of figures of speech as water. A poor argument "won't hold water;" a babbling man is "half seas over;" "fishing in troubled waters" is another name for getting into difficulty; "still waters run deep" is a hint that your quiet and demure person has more in him than the world supposes; if a man is in a bad predicament he is in "not water;" disappointment is "a wet blanket."

Of the rejected suitor it is said that "cold water is thrown on his hopes;" the hungry man's "mouth waters;" the strengthless are "weak as water;" sometimes it "rains blessings;" when an orator begins to be tedious we say he has "run dry;" news is always "afloat;" speculators are often "swamped;" many people find it impossible to "keep their heads above water;" and often we have to acknowledge that we are "all at sea."

Beau Brummel's Dress.

Evidently we must not believe all that we have read of Beau Brummel. There were stories that he appeared in "a dove colored coat and white satin inexpressibles;" that it took two artists to make his gloves, a special expert being assigned to the thumbs, and that he had three hairdressers who specialized, so to speak, on the different parts of his head. All these stories, it seems, are fiction, according to Leon H. Vincent's "Dandies and Men of Letters."

"Simplistic and unobtrusive elegance were his ideals. To attract notice by conspicuousness in dress was in his opinion the most mortifying experience that a gentleman could have. Byron told Leigh Hunt that there was nothing remarkable in Brummel's dress except a certain exquisite propriety. From which it may be inferred that his reforms were of a sensible sort."

Mortgage 2343 years old given on an orchard in Babylon is being used as a model for an Illinois Central $120,000,000 mortgage.

AUTO OWNERS ATTENTION.

It is necessary to register your machine with the secretary of state to secure license numbers for 1914. Automobile, motorcycle, dealers and chauffeur's license blanks at the Republican office where there is a notary.

NOTICE

The undersigned will close their respective places of business beginning, December 29, 1913 and continuing to April 1st, 1914, at six o'clock except Saturday.

GUNN HAYDON,
HUNT HARDWARE CO.
JOHN B. MORRIS,

239112.

Card of Thanks.

Henry G. Wilson and children wish to thank friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy, the Rev. C. M. Yocum for his consoling words and the singers at the funeral of their son and brother, Herbert Wilson.

6%

4%

Our 1914 Almanacs are now on hand. A copy is yours for the asking.

Farmers Trust Co.

3%

2%

CASH

Make this one of your New Resolutions for 1914—Pay Cash for your Groceries and see what it Saves you

Beans a pound	5c
Nice Large Bananas a dozen	15c
Potatoes a peck	25c
6 Pint Cans Milk	25c
25 lbs. H. & E. Sugar	$1.20
Quaker Oats, 9c or 3 for	25c

Highest Cash price paid for country produce

The Store Where You Buy For Less

THE ONEAL GROCERY CO.

Phone 1326

628 N. Sexton St.

Fire and Tornado Insurance

ABSTRACTS OF TITLE
FIDELITY and SURETY BONDS
BURGLARY INSURANCE
GEORGE W. OSBORNE

305 Main St.

Telephone 1336

For Sale at Once

80 acre farm in Union township, 2½ miles southeast from Ging Station, 2 miles from traction line. Good grain farm—more than half black loam. Price reasonable.

Lewis E. Ging or A. L. Gary

Phone 1594

Rushville, Indiana.

The Penslar Drug Store

What This Sign Really Means.

That this is an up-to-date Drug Store where a complete line of the Penslar Household Remedies are to be found always pure and fresh — Absolutely Guaranteed. If you buy an article from this line and are not entirely satisfied bring it back and your money will be refunded just as cheerfully as it is taken. We want your business. That is why we always have the best of everything for our customers. Make yourself a Customer of the Penslar Drug Store and you will always get the best at the lowest possible price.

Our telephone number is 1408, and our Free Delivery service is up to the minute. Wire your next order and see how quickly it will be delivered.

Watch This Space

No. 2 of the Penslar Kids Contest will start next week.

F. B. Johnson & Company

Drugs, Wall Paper, Paints and Window Shades. Fine Picture Framing a Specialty.

Personal Points

—W. A. Allen of Indianapolis was here today on business.

—A. P. Wagoner returned today from a visit in Clarksville, Iowa.

—Harry Cain of Connersville transacted business here yesterday.

—Chief of police, T. E. McAlister was a visitor in Indianapolis today.

—Miss Estell Charles, of Delphi, has gone to Greensburg after a visit here.

—Earl Roam of Richmond is the guest of friends and relatives here today.

—J. W. Miller of Cincinnati was the guest of Miss Helen Scudder yesterday.

—Max Wallace of Indianapolis spent the day here with friends and relatives.

—Miss Mary Brady of Delphus, Ohio, is a guest of Miss Helen Scudder for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edditt Barrett of Shelbyville visited friends and relatives here today.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Winship are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones of near Franklin.

Mrs. Margaret Windler is seriously ill at the home of her son, Frank Windler in Jersey City.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waltz are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Montgomery in Shelbyville.

—The Misses Lydia and Maria Dugan and Helen Williamson are visiting friends in Connersville.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Schmidt attended the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Barbara Schmidt in Newcastle today.

—Miss Gladys Bebout is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Gardner in Arlington and today visited the Arlington schools.

—Mrs. Mary E. Cowing went to Chicago Wednesday for a several weeks' visit there with W. O. Freeman and family.

—Miss Buelah Staples, deputy clerk, spent the day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Staples, near Richland.

—John Miller has returned to Cincinnati after a visit here with Byron Cowing. Mr. Miller is a student in the University of Pennsylvania.

—George Skipton, who is employed by the Westinghouse Electrical Co., Pittsburg, came this morning for a short vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Skipton, in North Harrison street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harris of Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting here and today were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Parsons. Mr. Harris at one time conducted a dry goods and notion store in the room now occupied by the 99 cent store.

I have a supply of Automobile license blanks. Call and have yours executed. Nancy Hogsett. Office in Odd Fellows Bldg. 252t6

BLUE EYED BABY GIRLS IN DEMAND

While Boy Waifs Go Begging For Foster Parents.

DEMAND EXCEEDS SUPPLY.

New York Charities Aid Association Swamped With Applications For Flaxen Haired Human Dolls—"Childless Women Want Them to Fuss Over and Bedeck With Ribbons."

Flaxen haired little girls have dimmed the glory of mere boys in popular favor, according to the New York State Charities Aid association. In all New York state and nearby communities it has been impossible to find homes for 100 orphaned boys now in the guardianship of the association.

On the other hand, little girls, especially those having "blue eyes and golden hair," cannot be gathered fast enough to meet the demand.

Elsewhere in the country the same situation exists.

"This discrimination in favor of the girl might be explained," said Miss Mary Vida Clark, acting superintendent of the New York State Charities association, recently, "by the fact that little girls are, I believe, generally considered easier to rear. Moreover, they give women something to dress up in ribbons and laces, something to fuss over—human dolls, so to speak. Then, again, little girls are more companionable. The women who seek to adopt children are generally those who never have had children of their own. They are lonely and want little girls, who become more and more attached companions of their mothers as they grow older, whereas boys branch out into fields and worlds of their own as they are old enough for companionship worthy the name.

Demand For Blue Eyed Baby Girls.

"We have a good many more than fifty children at present in charge, but the demand this year seems to be almost restricted to blue eyed baby girls. We haven't enough to fill all the orders. On the other hand we have more than 100 boys ranging in age from six to fourteen years, and we are almost unable to find homes for any of them. The boy seems to be unpopular, while the little girl grows constantly in favor."

"How about the men who figure in the adoptions?" Miss Clark was asked. "Men usually like little girls better," she replied. "Fathers generally are fond of their daughters. Thus, little flaxen haired, sapphire eyed fairies are in demand at both ends of the family.

"The men usually let the women carry on all the negotiations. They stay in the background and shiver and shake until the worst is over. Then they come in and make more fuss than anybody."

Two-year-old Children Favored.

There are numerous interesting facts to be learned from the association, which annually finds homes for about 250 little waifs. Here are some:

The association now has about 150 children awaiting homes.

It is not necessary to adopt a child. Most of them are sent out to permanent homes without legal adoption. More than 100 of the children waiting are boys.

Under two years old is the popular age for adopting.

Families seeking to adopt or house children must submit to investigation.

Every social caste—or caste of wealth—is represented among the adopting parents. "From street car conductor to the millionaire or the college professor or the minister," as Miss Clark put it.

Author Back From Wilds.

Paris, Dec. 26.—Stewart Edward White, the American author, has arrived here after a hunting and exploring trip to central Africa, where he spent nine months.

The Daily Republican

The "Old Reliable" Republican Newspaper of Rush County.

Published Daily except Sunday by THE REPUBLICAN COMPANY. Office: Northwest Corner of Second and Perkins Streets. RUSHVILLE, INDIANA.

Entered at the Rushville, Ind., Post-office as Second-class Matter.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

Thursday, January 1, 1914.

Consider 1908.

The Indianapolis Star says:

"In his plea of justification for the course taken by the Republican national committee two weeks ago, James E. Watson, of Rushville, Ind., who was conspicuous in the committee's proceedings, lays all the blame at the door of the national convention of 1908, which did not accept a proposal to reduce the Southern representation."

"But Mr. Watson must admit that the objections to the Southern representation in the 1912 republican convention arose not so much because of the disproportionate allotment of delegates as because of the manifestly unfair validation of whole state delegations where contests had been waged."

"Mr. Watson gives no account of the ruthless rejection of contests, not alone from the Southern states, but from Northern and Western states, where the contestants were not favorable to President Taft's re-nomination. He gives no account of the high-horse domination by the national committee of the preliminary organization of the convention. He is silent on every aspect of the 1912 convention save that of the Southern quota."

Either the Star is ignorant of the history of the 1908 convention, or it prefers to misrepresent it.

There were 202 contests involving seats in the Chicago convention of 1908, and of this number 200 were decided in favor of the administration candidate for the presidency, the work of the committee being under the personal direction of President Roosevelt and his lieutenants, comments the Muncie Press.

If the Indianapolis Star will consult its own files for 1908, it will find where, in 1908, "local primaries were straight armed and state conventions stolen," for instance in the neighboring state of Kentucky. The one republican United States senator from south of the Ohio was kicked out of the convention of 1908, although an overwhelming showing of fraud in the Kentucky primaries and conventions by the federal machine was conclusively proved.

The essential moral difference was that in 1908 the work was being done in Colonel Roosevelt's behalf, in 1912 against him. Therefore, in the one case it became virtuous, in the other iniquitous.

Fair-minded republicans regret that the precedents of 1908 were followed in 1912. They have never believed that those who used the steam roller process in 1908 were in position to complain against its repetition in 1912. If President Roosevelt had not ordered his lieutenants to defeat the Burke resolution for reduction of southern representation in the 1908 convention, the contest complications of 1912 would certainly have been much less serious. And, if during his period of control of the republican party, Colonel Roosevelt had effected the other reforms in party procedure the absence of which was made the immediate occasion for the 1912 division. Then, it is apparent that ruction would not have occurred. But the fact stands out that he did not.

Editorialettes

JUST MERELY SETTING THE PACE FOR 1914, THAT'S ALL TO MISS AN ISSUE OF THE COLUM AT SUCH A TIME WOULD BE—WHATEVER IT WOULD BE—YOU MAY FIGURE OUT.

But to drop back to cold light face, lower case, we ushered in little old 1914 last night and found it an extremely tedious task. Meeting the new year at the corporation line and beckoning it into our city is not what the paragraphers say it is. Hereafter, it's Old Man Morphers for us. He's the most exacting old cuss, but he's a friend to stick by because he's the fellow who put that thing called Age in sleep.

EXPERTS DISCUSS BULKLEY ON

It Will Work Out Better For Country Banks, Says Ohio Congressman

WITH the signing of the new currency bill by President Wilson the second biggest piece of business of the Democratic administration is out of the way, and, as in the case of the new tariff law, the country must wait to see how it works out. While confident of the result, the president and his advisers are no less interested than the country at large in awaiting the sequel to these epochal events in our political history, in seeing their results in practical demonstration.

The next step is the naming by the president of the federal reserve board of seven. The secretary of the treasury and the new comptroller of the currency will be members, and the other five will be chosen from private life.

President Wilson is credited with desiring Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts to serve on the federal reserve board.

The indications are that in spite of his declaration that he would decline membership on the board an effort will be made to induce James J. Hill to become the head of that organization, a position that will carry with it the title of governor.

Wilson Happy and Optimistic.

Many months' hard work was put in by the framers of the bill, and the president in his address upon the occasion of affixing his signature to the measure paid especial tributes to Representative Carter Glass and Senator

Photo by American Press Association.

Robert L. Owen, chairmen of the respective congress committees. It was a happy moment for the president, and he showed it as, reaching for the fourth gold pen in signing the bill, he jocularly remarked to those about him, "I'm drawing on the 40 per cent gold reserve."

After signing the bill he said in part: As for the bill itself, I feel that we can say that it is the first of a series of constructive measures by which the Democratic party will show that it knows how to serve the country. In calling it the first of a series of constructive measures I need not say that I am not casting any reflections on the great tariff bill which preceded it. The tariff bill was meant to remove those impediments to American industry and prosperity which had so long stood in their way. It was a great piece of preparation for the achievements of American commerce and American industry which are certain to follow. Then there came upon the heels of it this bill which furnishes the machinery for free and elastic and uncontrolled credits put at the disposal of the merchants and manufacturers of this country for the first time in fifty years.

I have been surprised at the sudden acceptance of this measure by public opinion everywhere. I say surprised because it seems as if it had suddenly become obvious to men who had looked at it with too critical an eye that it was really meant in their interest. They have opened their eyes to see a thing which they had supposed to be hostile to be friendly and serviceable—exactly what we intended it to be and what we shall intend all our legislation to be.

The men who have fought for this measure have fought nobly. They have simply fought for those accommodations which are going to secure us in prosperity and peace.

"I never had any doubt," said Secretary McAdoo, "that the national banks would enter the system. My experience is that after a law of this character is passed there is a patriotic acceptance of it. This law, I believe, will prove the greatest thing that has happened in the country in a generation."

Making System Operative.

Immediately the new banking system became law it was announced that the organization work would be undertaken at once by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston of the committee charged by law with the task. The third member of the committee, which is known as the reserve bank organization committee, is the comptroller of the currency. That office is vacant and will be filled by the president upon his return from Mississippi. John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, is said to be the president's choice for comptroller. Congress has adjourned until Jan. 12, and in the absence of the third member there will be no formal meeting until after that date.

MONEY LAW; PROBABLE EFFECT

Financiers Hopeful, but as a Whole Are Cautious In Predictions

The first duty of the reserve bank organization committee is to designate the federal reserve cities. Under the law there are to be not less than eight or more than twelve.

There is considerable speculation as to the probable location of these federal reserve banks.

All national banks are required by the law to become members of the federal reserve banking system or surrender their charters.

Cities Up to Requirements.

The capital and surplus of banks entering the system and the relative aggregate of the capital and surplus of

© by American Press Association.

WILLIAM G. McADOO.

prospective member banks in financial centers throughout the country will be carefully considered.

The only cities in which the capital and surplus of national banks are in excess of $25,000,000, with the approximate capital and surplus of such banks located in them, are these:

Boston, over $45,000,000; New York city, over $249,000,000; Philadelphia, over $65,000,000; Pittsburgh, over $53,000,000; Chicago, over $69,000,000; St. Louis, over $32,000,000, and San Francisco, over $43,000,000.

Philadelphia is a strong candidate for selection as a regional reserve city.

Many western men have contended that there should be two regional cities on the Pacific coast. San Francisco would undoubtedly be one of them, but there would be keen rivalry between Portland and Seattle. Others believe that Minneapolis or St. Paul should be chosen as a regional center to accommodate the region between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Leading Bankers' Opinions.

Now that the new system is a fact, state and national bankers are not disposed to be too critical. Opinions of men in various parts of the country are given herewith:

Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York:

There cannot be any doubt that the enactment of this legislation will inaugurate a new era in the history of banking in the United States. While it is to be regretted that some important suggestions made by the business community could not be adopted, the fundamental thoughts, for the victory of which some of us have worked for so many years, have won out—that is to say, from now on we shall witness the gradual elimination of the bond secured currency, of scattered reserves of immobilized commercial paper and of pyramiding of call loans on the Stock Exchange. The ship is headed right, and nothing will ever turn her back into her old course.

Charles Smithers of F. S. Smithers & Co., New York:

We shall henceforth be able to finance our commercial operations without recourse to such a large amount of actual banking capital as was necessary before. It will be done on credit, backed by the mobilized power of the entire banking resources of the United States. This is going to release huge sums of capital, which will undoubtedly be employed in further developing the splendid resources of this country.

Newton D. Atling, vice president of the National Nassau bank, New York:

Of the currency changes the most important is that affecting the reserves. For any one to prophesy just what result this changed requirement is going to have in any one section at any one time would be presumption. But after a considerable period of adjustment and re-establishment of relations its general effect should be beneficial all over the country.

George H. Prince, chairman of the board of directors of the Mercantile National bank of St. Paul, Minn.:

While the bill is a good one, it has many defects that will have to be remedied. It will take at least a year to make the currency law workable and thorough, by understood. During that time Europe will be a little cautious. There is also lutely no reason for any serious change or depression.

Edmund D. Hulbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, Chicago:

Of course, from the viewpoint of the bankers, the measure contains many objectionable features; but, on the whole, it is a sound bill and will do much toward putting banking and currency on a firm footing.

John C. Mitchell, president of the Denver National bank:

I should say that the new law is 80 per cent good, though I do not entirely agree with some of its provisions. If it is carried out according to its terms we shall never have another panic.

Thomas H. West, chairman of the St. Louis Union Trust company:

I have faith in the measure, and, while it may not be perfect, it can readily be changed to conform to unforeseen conditions after the reorganization.

F. O. Watts, president of the Third National bank, St. Louis:

I believe the changes in the senate have served to make the bill very superior to the form in which it passed the house. I think it is a workable bill and contains all the essentials of a good banking and currency measure.

Robert F. Maddon, president of the American National bank of Atlanta, Ga.:

The purpose of the bill to mobilize the currency is good. The only question is whether the measure will accomplish that.

W. M. Habliston, chairman of the board of the First National bank, president of the Broad Street bank and the Old Dominion Trust company, Richmond, Va.:

The bill is a great improvement over the one which has been in effect for several years. It will result in an elastic currency which will avert panics.

Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National bank, Richmond, Va.:

The passage of the currency measure will have a beneficial effect upon the country at large, and its operation will help business.

Calls Bill a Menace.

Charles McKnight, president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania:

I do not think the bill should have been passed. It will do the country no good—

© 1913, by American Press Association.

DAVID F. HOUSTON.

In fact, the new law will, I believe, work decided harm to the banking system, both in this district and throughout the country.

George M. Gunn, president of the National Trades bank, New Haven, Conn.:

If the banks of the country work in harmony to carry out the provisions of the new law I believe it will result in a great improvement. I do not object and can see no good reason for objection to the regional bank.

Figures Out Results of Law.

Representative Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, a member of the house banking and currency committee, says the new system will work out better for the country banks. According to Mr. Bulkley, the country banks' old reserves will pay the new and leave a surplus of $40,000,000.

He says that in three years—thirty-six months after the new act is in effect—the federal reserve banks will have in total assets, cash $450,215,000 and loans $171,556,000.

At that time, asserts Bulkley, their capital would be $53,445,000, and their deposits $508,326,000, totaling the same as the assets of course. This is assuming that $140,000,000 in government deposits will be withdrawn from the United States treasury and be deposited in the banks.

Mr. Bulkley has endeavored to explain how the new currency law will work out without disturbing business.

All the changes he works out in detail. He figures the withdrawals from the country banks at $270,451,000 and the release of the reserve city banks at $169,745,000. His totals of payments made show cash $86,209,000, from reserve agents $169,745,000 and rediscunts $44,816,000, a grand total of payments of $300,770,000.

Mr. Bulkley says that the central reserve city banks would pay to the new federal reserve banks $259,968,000 cash, and would then probably have to rediscunt to the extent of $126,740,000, making a total payment which they would have to make of $386,708,000. All this he holds, would in the thirty-six months be accomplished without any tightening of credits or disturbance of business.

Did You Lose $6.00?

You say you did not. Perhaps you did and did not know it. If you have $200.00 and it is drawing only 3% you lose $6.00 each year. The same proportion holds good on any other amount, because we pay 6% on all Savings Accounts. Absolute safety for your money is guaranteed by supervision of the AUDITOR OF STATE. Better see us for full particulars.

NOW IS THE TIME TO OPEN YOUR ACCOUNT

Building Association No. 10

We experience real pleasure in extending New Year's greetings and thanks to our many friends for the kindness and patronage they have favored us with throughout the past year. It has been this help and consideration that has made our success possible.

The decks are cleared for the business of the new year. We are going to try as never before to merit the confidence of every housewife by continuing our policy of selling the best grades of food supplies at the right prices.

May the New Year hold in store many good things for our old friends and new.

L. L. ALLEN

Phone 1420

Grocer

To My Many Friends and Patrons

I desire to thank you for the generous patronage extended to me during the past and to wish you all a most Happy and Prosperous New Year.

GUNN HAYDON

PUBLIC SALE

We will sell at Public Sale on the Freman Elstun Farm, one mile east of Milroy, and eight miles south of Rushville, at Hill's Cross Roads, on

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1914, at 10:00 a. m., prompt, the following property, consisting of

5 HEAD OF HORSES

One Gray Mare, 12 years old, weight, 1400 pounds; one Black Mare, 12 years old, weight 1100 pounds; one aged Black Horse, weight 1500 pounds; one Black Filly, 2 years old, a good one; one Weanling Colt.

4 HEAD OF CATTLE

One Jersey Cow, a first class one; one Red Shorthorn Cow, 4 years old, giving four gallons of milk a day; one yearling Jersey Heifer, a fine one, bred; one Red Poled Steer, extra good one.

61 HEAD OF HOGS

Eight head two-year-old Chester White Sows, all bred and safe in pigs; one Sow with eight Pigs at side; seventeen head of Gilts, all bred, weighing 200 pounds, extra fine lot; thirty-three head of fall Shoats; one Chester White Male Hog, two years old; one Chester White Male Hog, ten months old. The above Hogs are all thoroughbred Chester Whites.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS, ETC.

Five tons of Clover Hay; 1500 bushels of extra good Corn; 1 McCormick Binder, new; 1 Johnson Mower; 2 Breaking Plows; 2 Riding Cultivators; 1 Corn Planter; 1 Steel Roller; 1 Spring-Tooth Harrow; 1 Disc Harrow; 1 Five-Hood Wheat Drill; 1 Galvanized Wheat Drill; 1 Galvanized Milk Trough, 12 feet long; 1 Corn Shelter, 1 Farm Wagon; 1 Buggy; 1 Set Buggy Harness; 3 Sets Work Harness; 1 45-gallon Feed Cooker; 1 Hay Ladder; Household goods and Kitchen Utensils and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE

A credit until September 1st, 1914, will be given on all sums over Ten Dollars the purchaser giving bankable note. All sums of Ten Dollars and under Cash on day of sale. A discount of 4 cents on the dollar for cash. We will receive sealed bids on the Freman Elstun Farm of 141 acres up until the day of sale and reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Good lunch served on day of sale by George Priest

R. S. DAVIS and J. F. MILLER, Agents.

C. O. TRIBBETT, Auctioneer.

RUE WEBB, Clerk.

K. of P. Dance

The dance of New Year's Eve has been changed to New Year's night on account of the inability of getting music. Douglas' Saxophone Orchestra will furnish the music.

New Year's Night

Amusements

The Gem offers a two-reel Imp feature "The Big Sister" for tonight. Jane Gail and Matt Moore are featured and it is said to be a dramatic picture is a Gem comedy entitled "His Double Surprise." Tomorrow night a three reel Bison "The She Wolf" will be shown.

The Princess will show the usual three pictures tonight. "Mother Love" is the title of the first a Lubin drama. Mabel Turner is featured. The second is a Vitagraph drama "The Doctor's Secret." Norma Talmage and VanDyke Brooks are featured in this one. The last is a Selig "Dorothy's Adoption." Tomorrow the two-reel Vitagraph "The Next Generation" showing Edith Story in the leading role will be shown.

The Portola will show an Essanay drama "The Way Perilous" for the first picture tonight. Francis X. Bushman is featured. The second is a Biograph drama entitled "The Van Nostrand Tiara." The third picture is an Edison "A Proposal From Nobody." Miss Helen Gardner, who will be seen at this theatre in "A Princess of Bagdad" next week is the highest priced star in moving pictures. For years she was leading lady with the Vitagraph company, but has recently formed a company of her own for the production of big features. Miss Gardner by her beauty and wonderful acting has become recognized throughout the country, and is a favorite wherever moving pictures are shown. In "A Princess of Bagdad," Miss Gardner has surrounded herself with a cast of splendid actors and actresses and the result is a play that leaves nothing to be desired as to the acting. The scenery is magnificent and costly and the costumes worn are beautiful.

RECEIVED NOISEY WELCOME

New Year is Greeted by Large Crowd in Indianapolis.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Jan. 1.—New Year's received a noisome welcome here at midnight. Dancing, dining, drinking and noise was unconfined. The downtown streets were jammed with merry-makers. The cafes, restaurants and hotel dining rooms all carried out elaborate preparations for welcoming in young 1914. For many days every available table in the leading places had been reserved. The private clubs gave programs of dancing and other entertainment and every public hall was crowded with dancers.

GOVERNOR RALSTON'S RESOLUTIONS FOR 1914.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 1.—In response to a request for a public statement of his New Year's resolutions, Governor Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana said: "It is my resolution for 1914 to stand officially for better sanitary conditions; for a cleaner citizenship; for a stronger bond of fellowship between men; for the preservation of the rights of organized society at any cost; for a greater efficiency in the public service, and for a higher conception of the possibilities of American citizenship. These things are essential to the happiness of the people. And the great function of government is to promote the happiness of the people."

NEW NUMBERS RECEIVED

Several Auto Owners Here Get Blue and White Tags.

Several automobile owners here have received the new 1914 state license tags. The tags for this year are very attractive and are quite an improvement over the yellow and black tags of last year. The new tags are blue and white. The auto license law for 1914 went into effect today and there are still many auto owners who have not yet applied for licenses. The secretary of state's office is rushed with orders for the tags and the first shipment of 15,000 tags will soon be exhausted.

LIGHTEN FARM BURDENS.

Townpeople Take Milk to Creamery, Clothes to Co-operative Laundry. Farmers' wives who live near Chatfield, Minn., have abandoned the wash-tub and the churn. This became known in Chicago when Albert V. Leonard, head of the reclamation service office at Chicago, received a letter from C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the reclamation service, in which he said: "I have made a discovery in the little town of Chatfield, Minn., which will go a long way toward relieving the farm home of one of its heaviest burdens if the idea is carried out extensively. Chatfield has a co-operative laundry operated in direct conjunction with a creamery. "A belt on the same machinery which operates the creamery runs the washing machine. The farmers bring their laundry when they come with the cream and on their next trip to the creamery carry home ready for use the week's wash. The laundry bill is charged to the cream account and taken out of the cream account at the end of the month. Five cents a pound is charged for washing."

Down Comes City's First "Skyscraper." New York's first skeleton construction office "skyscraper," twelve stories high and owned by the Standard Oil company, is being torn down. It was the first building put up under the system of iron columns with castron shells outside them intended to make them fireproof, and had the architect patented the idea it is said he would have made millions of dollars. Nowadays the skeletons of big buildings differ chiefly from it in that the columns are of steel, with brick shells for fireproofing.

"Woman Is Not a Person." The appeal of Miss Gwyneth Marjorie Bebb from the decision of the Incorporated Law society barring her from admission to the bar because of her sex has been rejected by the high court of London. The court adhered to the view that a woman is not a "person" within the meaning of the solicitors' act of 1843.

Couldn't Endure Loss of Brother. Connersville, Ind., Jan. 1.—Russell Bash, seventeen years old, living eight miles south of here, drained a glass of poison and died half an hour later. He had grieved continually because of the death of his brother several months ago.

Shot Himself in Head. Noblesville, Ind., Jan. 1.—Charles Stephens, thirty-four years old, a farmer of this county, took his own life by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. Stephens has been mentally unbalanced for some time.

Bicycle Rider Caught by Train. Gary, Ind., Jan. 1.—George Bihary, twenty-three years old, was killed when struck by a freight train when he was crossing a track on a bicycle. His body was hurled thirty feet.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars

EDITH STORY PRINCESS THEATER TOMORROW

LUIS TERRAZAS.
Rich Mexican Landowner Whose Property Was Confiscated by Villa.

Photo by American Press Association.

VILLA GETS MORE OF THE TERRAZAS MONEY

Old Billionaire Agrees to Ransom Terms.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 1.—A cool quarter of a million dollars in gold has been agreed on by General Villa as the ransom he will accept for the release of Luis Terrazas, son of the rich Mexican land owner, who has been imprisoned here for five weeks on the charge that he had supported Huerta. The money is to be paid by Luis Terrazas, sr., who has been negotiating at El Paso for the release of his son. The prisoner is to be brought to the border under safe conduct. The women members of the Terrazas family already have gone to the border. When the federal army evacuated Chihuahua, Terrazas, sr., went with the troops, but the son remained behind to look after the estate. He was arrested by Villa on the entrance of the rebels. Villa confiscated practically all of the vast estates of old Luis Terrazas, who is known as "the Rockefeller of Mexico."

Oil Steamer on Fire. Vera Cruz, Jan. 1.—The battleship New Jersey, which is now here, received wireless calls for help from the oil steamer Atlantis, which is on fire. The message said that the crew were taking to the boats. There was a fierce northerly gale at the time, but it has subsided, and it is hoped that the sailors have been rescued.

Sought Dangerous Resting Place. Shelburn, Ind., Jan. 1.—Robert Ladson, aged forty-three, of Sullivan, was killed by a traction car. He had been drinking heavily and laid down on the outside of the track. When the car came along he rolled across the rail and was decapitated. A widow and two children survive.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

More than 20,000 building mechanics in New York will start the new year with increases in wages.

The New Hampshire commission to determine the mental condition of Harry Thaw will hold a public hearing Jan. 7.

Government agents held a conference in Denver, Col., to discuss suppression of the liquor traffic among the Indians.

Colonel Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, says: "If necessary we could send ships through the canal tomorrow."

Eight persons, five men and three women, were burned to death and eight others were hurt in a tenement house fire in New York.

Discovery of the ruins of Machu Picchu, the cradle of the Inca empire, on the top of the Peruvian Andes has been announced by a Yale expedition.

General Villa has issued a statement at Chihuahua announcing that he is not and never has considered expelling Japanese residents from the state of that name.

NOTICE

Beginning January 1st, 1914, and continuing until March 15th, my store will close at 6 p. m., each evening except Saturday.

FRANK WILSON.

25043.

Fresh White Fish, Pickerel and Trout. Casady Meat Market. 227tf

FARM LOANS

I offer the best terms for the borrower. Unlimited funds. My accommodations are many and freely given. I can help you. B. F. MILLER

PRINCESS

EXTRA—Mr. Charles Carlton in Character and Cabaret Songs.

MABEL TURNER in a Swell Lubin Drama

"MOTHER LOVE"

NORMA TALMAGE and VAN DYKE BROOK in

"THE DOCTOR'S SECRET"

A High Class Vitagraph Drama

"DOROTHY'S ADOPTION"

Beautiful Selig Story

TOMORROW

Edith Story in "THE NEXT GENERATION"—Two Reels

GEM THEATER

"The Big Sister"

A Two Reel Imp Special, featuring JANE GAIL and MATT MOORE. Agnes and Adele are sisters. Agnes, being a girl of 23, is inclined to walk the rugged path, but Adele, being in her teens, has a tendency of traveling the broad and flowery one. A Swell Drama.

"HIS DOUBLE SURPRISE"

Gem Comedy

Harrie, married, has a flirtation with Tessie Applesauce. A letter which he receives from her falls into the hands of his wife, and then he gets in bad.

TOMORROW

"THE SHE WOLF"

101 Bison Three Reel Feature—Grace a She Wolf, a wrecker of men's hearts and reputations, tires of the bright lights and marries a miner.

PORTOLA THEATRE

3 Big New Years Day Features

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN and MISS BEVERLY BAYNE in

"THE WAY PERILOUS"

HARRY CAREY and MISS CLAIRE McDOWELL in

"The VanNostrand Tiara"

MISS MARY FULLER, supported by an excellent all star Edison Cast.

"A PROPOSAL FROM NOBODY"

Being the fourth story of "Who Will Marry Mary"

An Appreciation

We desire to thank you for your patronage in 1913 and extend greetings to the New Year. Respectfully soliciting a continuance of your patronage, we are, Yours for an Always Good Show

BASKET BALL

Richmond

High School

vs

Rushville

High School

7:30 pm

SATURDAY

Children's Hair

Keep it Clean and Free From Dis-ease by Using Parisian Sage.

If you want your children to grow up with strong, beautiful and vigorous hair teach them to use Parisian Sage, which can be had at any drug or toilet counter. It is one of the best, most pleasant and invigorating hair tonics on the market.

Parisian Sage cleanses the hair and scalp from dust and excessive oils. Quickly removes dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair. Hair that is thinning out, faded, matted or stringy almost immediately becomes fluffy, luxuriant and radiant with life.

Get a large 50-cent bottle from F. B. Johnson. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied. Parisian Sage is equally good for "grown-ups" and children. Everyone needs it.

(Advertisement.)

Young Man or Woman Wanted.

To learn to operate Linotype machine at this office, splendid opportunity to learn good trade without charge and at same time earn something. Work more pleasant than factory work and more lucrative when a finished operator. Can learn in short time. Apply in person. Good chance for right person to better their earning capacity.

Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, delicious light cakes for breakfast, all grocers.

Expert Watch and Jewelry Repairing at Kennard's. Diamonds reset Old Gold and Silver bought. 173th

6% Dividends on Savings
Building Association No. 10
Open Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m.
Office at Farmers Trust Co

Reduced Prices on
Nat'l Fostoria Mazda Lamps,
Electric Motors, Vacuum
Cleaners, Curling Irons, Combs,
Bed-warmers, Toasters, Percolators, Stoves, Heating Pads,
American Beauty and Acme
Electric Irons.
See
Mahin Electric Co.
Next door to I. & C. Traction
Station.

How's This?
We offer One Hundred Dollars
Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.
NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT.

KRYPTOK
GLASSES FURNISHED
DR. F. G. HACKLEMAN

DR. J. B. KINSINGER
Osteopathic Physician
Office in Kramer Building, Rushville, Ind. Outside calls answered and treatment given in the home.
Office hours—8:30 to 11:30 a. m.;
1:30 to 4:30 p. m.
Phones—Office, 1578; residence 1231
Consultation at office free.

NE'ER-DO-WELL

A Romance of the Panama Canal
BY REX BEACH

COPYRIGHT, 1910, 1911, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER IX.

The Truth About Mrs. Cortlandt.

EDITH CORTLANDT was not the sort to permit delay. At lunch she introduced Kirk to the master of transportation of the Panama railroad, saying:

"Mr. Runnels has offered to take you out through the cut this afternoon and explain the work to you."

Runnels was a straight, well set up, serious young man. Anthony was drawn to him instantly, for there was no affectation about him.

"She's wonderful," he remarked a moment later, as he and Kirk descended the hotel steps together. "She told Colonel Jolson he'd just have to find you a position, and I have been delegated to show you about."

"The Cortlandts seem to have considerable influence for outsiders. I thought I'd have to begin at the bottom."

Runnels glanced at his companion quickly.

"Outsiders! You don't call them outsiders? She knows everybody and everything in this country. She's the whole diplomatic service. Take the Colombian trouble, for instance?"

"What trouble?"

"When Panama seceded. She manipulated that, or at least Steve Cortlandt did under her direction. It was one of the cleverest exploits on record. Colombia wouldn't let us build the canal, so Panama seceded. War was declared, but the United States interfered in time to prevent bloodshed. By the time the excitement had died out we had begun digging. She knows Central America like the palm of her hand. When she says Kirk Anthony wants a position, we hire him jump about and see that he gets it. Oh, you'll have any job you want."

The two passed through the railroad gates and took their places in the little car. When they were under way Runnels went on: "I am supposed to show you this end of the work and tell you what it all means. The ditch will be about fifty miles long, and, roughly speaking, the work is in three parts—the dredging and harbor building at sea level on each end of the canal, the lock work and the excavations on the upper levels. That dam you saw building at Gatun will form a lake about thirty miles long—quite a fishpond, eh? When a westbound ship arrives, for instance, it will be raised through the Gatun locks, three of them and then sail along eighty-five feet above the ocean, across the lake and into a channel dug right through the hills until it reaches the locks at Pedro Miguel. Then it will be lowered to a smaller lake five miles long, then down again to the level of the Pacific. An eastbound ship will reverse the process. Get the idea?"

"Sure. It sounds easy."

"You will start in with the P. R. R., Mr. Anthony, under my despotic sway."

"I know a little about railroading."

"So much the better. There's a big railroad man by your name in the states. Are you related?"

"I believe so," Kirk answered, quietly. "Go ahead with the lesson."

"The canal zone is a strip of land ten miles wide running across the isthmus—really an American colony, you know, for we govern it, police it and all that. As for the work itself, well, the fellows at the two ends of the canal are dredging night and day to complete their part, the lock builders are laying concrete like mad to get their share done first, the chaps in the big cut are boring through the hills like moles and breaking steam shovel records every week, while we railroad men take care of the whole shooting match. Of course, there are other departments—sanitary, engineering, commissary, and so forth—all doing their share, but that is the general scheme. Everybody is trying to break records. Lord! It's fierce."

"Why didn't you quit?" suggested Anthony.

"Quit! What for? Good Lord! We like it. Here we are at Pedro Miguel, by the way. We'll be into the cut shortly."

To his left Anthony beheld another scene somewhat similar to the one at Gatun. Other movable steel cranes with huge wide tung arms, rose out of another chasm in which were extensive concrete workings. From a distance the towers resembled parts of a half constructed cantilever bridge of tremendous height. Another army was toiling at the bottom of the pit, more cranes shunted back and forth, more rock crushers rumbled; but, before Kirk's eye had photographed more than a small part, the motor car had sped past and was rolling out upon a bridge spanning the canal itself. To the northward appeared an opening cut through the hills and simply:

"Culebra!"
A moment later he announced: "We leave the P. R. R. tracks here and switch in on the I. C. C. Now you'll begin to see something."

Down into the cut the little car went, and at last Anthony saw the active pulsating heart of this stupendous undertaking. The low range was severed by a gorge blasted out by human hands. It was a mountain valley in the making. High up on its sides were dirt and rock trains, dozens of compressed air drills, their spars resembling the masts of a fleet of catboats at anchor—behind these grimy, powerful steam shovels which rooted and grunted quite like iron hogs. Along the tracks at various levels flowed a constant current of traffic; long lines of empty cars crept past the shovels, then, filled to overflowing, sped away northward up the valley, to return again and again. Nowhere was there any idleness, nowhere a cold machine or a man at rest. On every hand was smoke and steam and sweat. The drills chugged steadily, the hungry iron hogs gouged out the trails the drills had loosened, the trains rolled past at intervals of a moment or so. Lines of electric wire, carried upon low wooden "shears," paralleled the tracks, bearing the white hot sparks that rent the mountain. At every switch a negro fireman, crouched beneath a slanting sheet of corrugated iron, seeking shelter alike from flying fragments and the blazing sun. From beneath the drills came occasional subterranean explosions; then geyser of muddy water rose in the air. Under the snouts of the steam shovels "dobe" shots went off as bowlders were riven into smaller fragments. Now and then an excited tooting of whistles gave warning of a bigger blast as the flagmen checked the flow of traffic, indicating with arms upraised that the ground was "coming up." Thereupon a brief lull occurred; men hid themselves, the work held its breath, as it were. But while the detonations still echoed and before the flying missiles had ceased to shower the human ants were moiling at their hills once more, the wheels were turning again, the jaws of the iron hogs were clanking.

Through this upheaval the motorcar penetrated, dodging trains of "flats," which moved sluggishly to afford them passage up and down over the volcanic furrows at the bottom of the gorge or along some shelf beneath which the foundations were being dug. At times a shovel reached out its five yard steel jaw and gently cleared the rails of debris, or boosted some bowlder from the path with all the skill of a giant hand and fingers. Up and down the canyon rolled spasmodic rumblings, like broadsides from a fleet of battleships. Mile after mile the sightseers rolled on, past scenes of never varying activity—past more shovels, more groups of drills, more dirt trains, more regiments of men—Runnels explaining, Kirk marveling until he was forced to exclaim:

"I had no idea it was so big. It doesn't seem as if they'd ever finish it."

"Oh, we'll finish it if we're left alone. You see there is too much politics in it; we never know how long our jobs will last. If some senator whose vote is needed on an administration matter wanted my position for his wife's brother, he could get it."

"I suppose I'm an example."

Runnels looked at him squarely before answering. "You are," said he, "although I wasn't thinking of you when I spoke. It's something we all feel, however."

Anthony flushed as he answered: "I don't remember ever taking anything I wasn't entitled to, and I didn't think when I was shoved in here that I'd shove some other fellow out. I suppose there is room at the bottom, and a fellow can work up?"

"If he has it in him."

"I think I'll start there."

"I'm afraid you're a poor business man," said Runnels.

"Rotten!" Kirk admitted. "But I've an idea I can make good if I try."

"If you feel that way I certainly will help you," said the other warmly. "Of course I'll try to help you anyhow, but I like your spirit. With Mrs. Cortlandt to back me up, I'll see you go forward as fast as you deserve."

By now they were out of the cut and once more upon the main line at Bas Obispo, heading back toward the Pacific.

"You asked me to tell you something about her," Runnels continued. "I'm not sure my information is entirely correct, but, knowing who she is, I think I understand why she is in Panama. It is politics—big politics. The Sniggotics have an election next year and it is necessary to get our wires well laid before it comes off. General Alfarez will probably be the next president."

"Alfarez! Not Ramon?"

"His father. You know we Americans occupy a peculiar position here, set down as we are in the midst of an alien people who hate us. Oh, they hate us, all right—all except a few of the better class."

"Why?"

"There are a good many reasons. For one thing, there's a sort of racial antipathy. Besides, when we stole Panama we made the Colombians sore, and all Central America besides, for they realized that once we Yankees got a foothold here we'd hang on and not only dominate this country, but all the neighboring republics as well."

"I had gathered something of the sort—but I had no idea there was so much in it. But we don't want these jungle countries," said Kirk.

"That's where you're wrong. By and by we'll need room to expand, and when that time comes we'll move south. Meanwhile our farsighted government is smoothing the way, and there's nobody better fitted for the preliminary work than Mr. Stephen Cortlandt of Washington, D. C., husband and clerk of the smartest woman in the business of chaperoning administrations. He's the figurehead behind which she works. She's a rich woman, she loves the game—her father was the greatest diplomat of his time, you know—and she married Cortlandt so she could play it. Any other man would have served as well, though I've heard that he showed promise before she blotted him out and absorbed him. But now he's merely her power of attorney."

Anthony pursed his lips into a whistle of astonishment.

"It's been a good thing for him," Runnels ran on, evidently warmed to his subject. "She's made his reputation; he has money and position. For my part, I'd rather remain insignificant and have a real wife."

"Don't they love each other?"

"Nobody knows. She's carved out of ice, and as for him, well, gratitude is a good deal like rust—in time it destroys the thing it clings to. I suppose I'm talking too much, but others would tell you the same things."

It was with quite a different eye that Kirk looked upon his host and hostess that evening. To his genuine liking for the latter was now added a worshipful admiration and a boyish gratification at her regard, which rather put her at a distance.

"It's all settled," said he. "I'm going to work in a few days as train collector."

"What?" Mrs. Cortlandt turned upon him sharply. "Runnels didn't offer you that sort of position?" Her eyes were dark with indignation. Kirk promptly came to the defense of his new friend.

"No, I asked for it."

"Oh, I see. Well, he will do much better by you than that."

"I don't want anything better to start with."

"But, my dear boy, a collector is merely a conductor. He takes tickets."

"Sure! I can do that. I might fail at something hard."

"No, no, no! I'll see that you don't fail. Don't you understand?"

"I understand a lot more than I did, Mrs. Cortlandt. That's why I don't want to rob some chap of a job he's entitled to, and I sha'n't. There's a collector quitting shortly."

"Is that really the reason, or do you think the work will be easier?"

Kirk stirred uncomfortably. "Oh, I'm not trying to dodge anything," he maintained. "On the contrary, the most amazing thing has happened—something I can't quite understand. I—I really want to work. Funny, isn't it? I didn't know people ever got that way, but—I'd like to help build this canal."

"But a conductor! Why, you're a gentleman."

"My dad was a brakeman."

"Don't be foolish. Runnels talks too much. He'll offer you something better than that."

But Kirk was obdurate. "I'd prefer to start in as confidential adviser to the canal commission, of course, but I'd be a 'frost,' and my father would say 'I told you so.' I must make good for his sake, even if it's only counting cars or licking postage stamps. Besides, it isn't exactly the square thing to take money for work that somebody else does for you."

Mrs. Cortlandt laughed with a touch of annoyance.

"I think a few weeks in cap and buttons will cure you of this quixotic sentiment. Meanwhile I must admit it is refreshing." She stared unseeingly at the street lights for a moment. "But see here, Kirk, don't the collectors live in Colon?"

"I don't know," he replied, startled and flattered by her first use of his given name.

"I'll look it up tomorrow. You know I—Mr. Cortlandt and I will be in Panama, and I prefer to have you here. You see, we can do more for you."

A little later she broke into a low laugh. "It seems strange to go driving with a conductor."

To be Continued.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Largest Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist, Ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 cents. Knows Best, Safest, Always Reliable.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Fresh White Fish, Pickerel, and Trout. Casady Meat Market. 227th

SENTENCED TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

"Bandit Club" of Lads at Boonville Are Placed on Probation For Year by Court.

THE YOUTHS ALL CONFESS

Steal Things From Stores to Equip Themselves as Highwaymen and Desperadoes.

Boonville, Ind., Jan. 1.—Four boys whose ages range between nine and twelve years must attend Sunday school every Sunday for one year and must also report weekly to the probation officer of the Warrick county juvenile court. This is the alternative fixed by Judge Caleb J. Lindsey for imprisonment following pleas of guilty to charges of petit larceny made by the boys when arraigned before him.

The boys, according to their confessions, were organizers and leading members of a "bandit club." Moving picture scenes in which were bold, bad bandits wearing long mustaches and wide-brimmed hats, with the proper mask and revolver accompaniment, gave them their idea for forming the club and becoming "professionals."

During the last few days the boys have taken many articles from local stores with which to equip themselves as highwaymen and desperadoes. At one hardware store they worked a scheme, some engaging the clerks in conversation while others committed acts of thievery. At this place they obtained most of their weapons and ammunition.

After hearing their confession, Judge Lindsey unburdened himself of a lecture that they will remember for years. He also warned them to stay out of poolrooms and off the streets at night. The boys are members of families that are among the most prominent in Boonville.

THUGS ATTACKED A GROCER

Robbers in West Richmond Knock Victim Down With Knives.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 1.—Thomas Wiggs, an elderly man who operates a small grocery on Main street in West Richmond, was assaulted and badly injured by two robbers early last evening. After he had been knocked unconscious the men looted the cash drawer, taking $4. No trace of the robbers has been secured.

Wiggs was found in a pool of blood by his wife a short time after the assault. No one was in the grocery with Wiggs at the time the holdup men entered and attacked him.

Wiggs says that one of the men asked him to step in front of the counter to get some cookies for him. When he did so both jumped on him and he was knocked to the floor by a blow on the head. His assailants evidently used brass knuckles. After he had been knocked down he was kicked in various parts of his body.

The attending physician states that Wiggs's wounds are serious, but he will probably recover. A number of people were passing along the street when the assault occurred, but no one witnessed it. This robbery is about the twentieth which has occurred in Richmond the last three weeks.

Corn Thieves Sentenced.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 1.—Henry Hartwell and Ira Hartwell, brothers, were found guilty of the theft of corn from the farm of Jerome Brown, former county commissioner. Each was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Miss Lottie Barnes, a housekeeper at the Hartwell home, was acquitted.

Grim Death at the Feast.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 1.—"Good-by, you dear old 1913," exclaimed Mrs. Dollie Anderson Short last evening, as she drained a vial of poison in the presence of guests in a restaurant. In five minutes she was dead. She was twenty-four years old.

Aged Couple Perish in Flames.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 1.—Jeremiah Anderson, seventy-five years old, said to be the oldest colored Mason in the state, and his wife were burned to death when an exploding oil lamp they kept burning in their room at night set fire to their home.

"Prince Albert" cigars, well I'd say!

You can bank on them every day. They are always just the same, you know, So sweet, so mellow, mild and slow, As all the best of smokers know Why "Prince Albert" cigars are all the go.

"Prince Albert" cigars, well I'd say!

Doggone the rest any way. If you want to see me when I'm right, A feelin' fine and out of sight, It's makin' love without a light, With a big "Prince Albert" and a girl that's right.

"Prince Albert" cigars, well I'd say!

Doggone the girls any way For there are thousands of others of their kind, And you can find one any old time, For I now have other dates with mine, But only one "Prince Albert" can I find.

"Prince Albert" cigars, well I'd say!

Going to have one every day, For when my troubles come and go, And I'm all down and out, you know, And business is a moving rather slow, For consolation, to a "Prince Albert" I go.

Note—Box of Prince Albert cigars given to first person sending author's name of above series of poems to M. Conner.

Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, delicious light cakes for breakfast, all grocers.

December 28, 1913

AT RUSHVILLE PASSENGER SERVICE

West Bound	East Bound
R 4 58	1 37
5 37	2 59
R 6 37	3 37
7 37	4 59
8 37	5 37
9 37	6 37
10 59	7 37
11 37	8 37
12 59	9 37

Light face, A.M. Dark face, P.M.
Limited Trains from Rushville
R Starts from Rushville
Additional Trains Arrive:
From East, 7:37 and 11:37.

EXPRESS SERVICE
Express for delivery at stations carried on all passenger trains
during the day.
The Adams Express Co. operates over our lines.

FREIGHT SERVICE
West Bound, Lv 10:20 am ex. Sunday
East Bound, Lv 6:00 am ex. Sunday

A State to be Desired

But how can you expect it
When with baking you are tired.
Why not Solve the Problem Now
While those tired feelings lurk—
It's Easy, when you once know how,
Let the

Baker Do the Work!

ORMES BAKERY

Or A. L. Aldridge, Court House Grocery, Conroy's Restaurant, Sharp Meat Market, O'Neil Bros. Charles Berry, B. A. Black, Merrill's Grocery, Jennie Foulon, W. Richter, Seventh Street Grocery, Perry's Grocery, Waggoner's Grocery, Lige Hankins, Max Goldstein.

As Solid As Oak

Your shoes are as solid as oak after we finish repairing them. Couldn't be otherwise. Considerable care, coupled with A-Number One leather can produce but one result. Give us a trial.

AL. T. SIMMES,
216 N. Main Street
Shining Parlor in Connection.

Features Changing --

But Never for the Worse

Time changes and we change with it, but memory prompts our hearts and tongues to express appreciation for favors past, on this glad New Years Day.

Rushville Laundry

Lee Pyle, Prop.

Phone 1342

DAILY MARKETS

T. H. Reed and Son are quoting the following prices for grain today, January 1, 1914.

Wheat	92c
Corn	57c
Oats	40c
Rye	60c
Timothy	$1.75 to $2.00
Clover	$7.00 to $8.00

POULTRY AND PRODUCE

The following are the ruling prices of the Rushville market, corrected to date—January 1, 1914.

Young Turkeys	15c
Old "Toms"	13c
Geese	8c
Hens and chickens	11c
Springers, light	9c
Ducks	10c
Eggs	25c
Butter	17c

Indianapolis Grain and Livestock.
Wheat—Wagon, 95c; No. 2 red, 98c. Corn—No. 3, 64c. Oats—No. 2 white, 41½c. Hay—Baled, $17.50 @ 19.50; timothy, $18.50 @ 20.50; mixed, $16.50 @ 17.50. Cattle—$3.00 @ 8.75. Hogs—$7.00 @ 8.10. Sheep—$3.00 @ 5.10. Lambs—$5.00 @ 8.00. Receipts—Cattle, 1,000; hogs, 11,500; sheep, 500.

At Cincinnati.
Wheat—No. 2 red, 99c. Corn—No. 2, 66c. Oats—No. 2, 42c. Cattle—$4.00 @ 8.15. Hogs—$5.00 @ 8.20. Sheep—$2.50 @ 4.35. Lambs—$5.75 @ 8.10.

At Chicago.
Wheat—No. 2 red, 96½c. Corn—No. 2, 70c. Oats—No. 2, 33½c. Cattle—Steers, $5.60 @ 9.60; stockers and feeders, $5.00 @ 7.45. Hogs—$5.00 @ 8.00. Sheep—$4.75 @ 6.10. Lambs—$6.75 @ 8.20.

At St. Louis.
Wheat—No. 2 red, 95½c. Corn—No. 2, 68c. Oats—No. 2, 40½c. Cattle—Steers, $5.00 @ 9.75. Hogs—$6.00 @ 8.05. Sheep—$3.75 @ 5.00. Lambs—$5.50 @ 8.25.

1914 JANUARY 1914
S	M	T	W	T	F	S
				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31

JAMES BRYCE

Former British Ambassador
Now Has Handle to His Name

"SOME ONE UNKNOWN" CAUSED DREAD PANIC

Jury Returns Open Verdict In Calumet Horror.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 1.—The coroner's jury after deliberating six hours in the case of the Italian hall panic deaths returned a verdict in which it was declared that the panic was caused by someone unknown within the hall who raised a cry of fire.

The verdict meets with the general approval of the people of this district, excepting perhaps some of the Federation of Miners members, who have strongly expressed the opinion that members of the Citizens' Alliance were responsible for the disaster. Between sixty-five and seventy witnesses were examined during the inquest. Only six of the total number of witnesses testified to seeing any person in the hall who wore a button of the Citizens' Alliance. Each of these claimed that the cry of fire was given by a man evidently a member of the alliance, but their description of the man did not tally, while they did not agree where they saw him when he raised the cry of fire.

ORDERED TO ENTER MINE

Kentucky Soldiers Told to Go In and Get Mountaineers.

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 1.—Adjutant General Ellis has received word from Governor McCreary to spend no more time in the siege in attempting to capture Happy Jack Hendrickson and his clan of mountaineers, who are hiding in the mine between here and Elys. The adjutant general was ordered to take men and enter the mine. Twenty searchlights have been obtained, and these will be used by as many men, while twenty other men will follow heavily armed.

Oh, yes sir! We do auto livery day or night. E. W. Caldwell. Residence phone 1489 or Bowen's garage, 1364. 103E.O.Dt

DEPRECATE THE ATTACKS

Officials of Department of Justice Contend Anti-Trusts Suits Will be Settled Out of Court.

ADJUSTMENTS OF EFFECTS

Negotiations Looking to Modification of Plan of Organization of Many Corporations.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Officials of the department of justice deprecate certain statements published in the last few days in regard to the policy of preventing anti-trust litigation through agreements outside of courts which was brought conspicuously to the attention of the public when the telephone company agreement was announced. A report which occasioned especial dissatisfaction was to the effect that no similar agreements were in process of negotiation.

As a matter of fact, it is known that negotiations with the government looking toward the adjustment of alleged defects in their organization and operation have been undertaken recently by at least four big corporations against which there are suits pending in the federal courts. These are the National Cash Register company, the American Thread company, the American Bill Posters' association and the American Sugar Refining company.

In addition the United Shoe Machinery company, through its legal representatives, held a series of conferences with officials of the department of justice several weeks ago with the same end in view. Later this corporation decided to proceed with the taking of testimony in its defense before the United States district court. The negotiations by the four corporations named are as yet only in their preliminary stage.

The fact that the negotiations have been instituted, however, is regarded as positive evidence of two things—first that a wholesome impression has been made by the spirit displayed in the letters of the president and the attorney general which accompanied the announcement of the telephone agreement, and second, that there exists in the business world a praiseworthy desire to confine their operations within a reasonable construction of the Sherman act.

There are no evidences as yet of a hitch in the negotiations for the reorganization of the New Haven road, which is probably the most important case under discussion by the department at present, and it is the expectation here that a decisive point soon will be reached.

CHURCHES HEAR MESSAGE

Reviews Year 1913 Along Various Lines.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 1.—A composite message, "Indianapolis Welcomes 1914," prepared by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was a feature of New Years today. The message was read in the churches.

The message reviews the year 1913, its progress in education, social service, civic improvements, building and industry.

Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, delicious light cakes for breakfast, all grocers.

COMBINATION SALE

Thursday, Jan. 15, 1914,

To be held at the Fair Grounds, consisting of 30 Chester White Brood Sows, all bred, 15 registered and 15 eligible; 59 South Downs, all bred, and one Buck. A lot of good Horses and Jersey Cows. Anybody wishing to consign anything in this sale can do so by seeing the Secretary.

J. H. BUSCHMOHLE,

P. A. MILLER, Treasurer.

Care Grand Hotel.

CLEN MILLER, Auctioneer.

Sale Commences at 12 O'clock.

25 CLOSED WINTER BUGGIES

I will sell these on time without interest until September 1, 1914. These are the finest made on earth today and this is no lie. Ask Sam Young, the hog buyer. He pays the best prices for the best hogs, and I sell the best Buggy of any firm in the county on time or cash. The reason I am selling them on long time is that this winter has been so mild they don't sell very fast. This is a chance of your life to own the finest closed rig ever brought to the city so come and see me and buy one before you leave the store.

To the Farmers

I am making Heavy Harness for spring work and if you want any of them come in and leave your order for the kind you want and we will build them and give you a guarantee on every piece that goes into the harness. If you find anything wrong bring it back and I will make it satisfactory. Time or Cash. Call on

J. W. Tompkins

First Street

South of Court House.

THE MADDEN BROTHERS CO.

Machinists

REPAIR WORK IS OUR SPECIALTY

Have your old Machinery repaired and made good as new. Steam and Gas Engine Repairing a Specialty. Call and see our St. Mary's Semi-Automatic Gas and Gasoline Engines before you buy. 2½, 4 and 7 horse power

BUILT FOR HARD SERVICE ON THE FARM
We Grind and Sharpen Lawn Mowers, Mowers, Sickles, Plow Points, Cutter Knives, Etc.

Phone 1632

517-519 West Second Street

Xmas is over and a thing of the past, but CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR is like Gold Dollars always in demand and if not already a customer begin the New Year right by using Clark's Purity Flour, the Flour that satisfies, costs a little more, but worth the difference.

MONUMENTS! MONUMENTS!

Our stock of monuments this season, surpasses anything we have heretofore carried, embracing a neat selection from the modestly plain to the elaborately carved from model designs.

The Products from the numerous quarries in the Barre, Vermont, district vary, not alone in color, but also in quality of stock. Who selects yours?

Montello and Millstone granite are of one uniform quality, the highest grade of monumental granite quarried.

J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS

Want Ad Department

Advertisements under this head are charged for at the rate of one-third cent per word for each insertion. The same ad will be placed in the Indianapolis Star and Daily Republican at the combined rate of one cent per word. Found articles of small value will be advertised free of charge.

LOST—Cameo stick pin between my office and traction station. Finder please notify me and receive reward. Dr. F. H. Green. Phone 1102. 25214

WANTED—Situation in private family by lady with 8 year-old boy. Steady work. Address Otto De Witte, R. R. 12, Rushville. 25213.

"Greenfield's First Annual Poultry Pat Stock Show" will be held Jan. 22-24. Catalogues now ready for distribution, address Paul G. Bell, Sec'y. 25212

WANTED LOCAL SOLICITORS—Live men and women to sell "Lastic Air" insoles. Salary $2.00 to $2.25 per day with commission over and above. Address Lastic-Air Co. Rushville, Ind. Gen. Del. 25213.

FOR RENT—Furnished room with bath. See John Jones, 534 North Main. 25216

FARM HAND—Married, wants position on farm, good reference. G. F. Wagoner, care Mrs. Innis, 332 North Morgan. 25113.

WANTED—Live wire, either sex, as our representative in Rushville and vicinity. Fine chance. Chambers Supply Co. 1614, Main street. Cincinnati, Ohio. 25013

FOR SALE—2 bay mares coming six years old both heavy in foal, weigh about 3200. Sound. See Geo. T. Billings, R. R. 10. 24912.

FOR SALE—Marlin rifle model 20, in fair order price right if sold soon, also a good trunk in good order. Phone 4111—1L-1S or see Ray Kemmer. 24916

WANTED—to fix out automobile license blanks. See Walter E. Smith Notary Public. 2471f

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms with bath, rooms or light housekeeping. 220 North Perkins. Phone 3284. 2471f

LOST—Sunday a ring set with diamond and opals, somewhere in Main street between Eighth and Ninth or in Eighth street between Main and Jackson school. Finder please return to Hal Green and receive reward. 25013

FOR RENT—Rooms. 214 Julian street. Phone 1547. 25116

FOR SALE—"Favorite" hard coal stove, 17-inch fire pot—very little used. Reasonable. See it at 717 North Willow St. 2501f

FOR SALE—Lot on Willow street in Stewart & Tompkins addition. Phone. 1370. 25016

FOR SALE—A Buick ten, Four Passenger. Maxwell, Two passenger. Premier, Model 24. Uwanta Garage. 2361f

FOR SALE—Barred Rock Cochreals. Choice one dollar. Mrs. W. L. Booth. Phone 4103—one long, three short rings. 2451f

FOR RENT—New House of 6 rooms on Ninth St. See Agnes Winston at Millinery Store. 2341f

WANTED—Nurses at "Norways" Sanatorium training school for nurses. Medical, surgical and special obstetrical training. For information apply to the Superintendent, 1820 East Tenth street, Indianapolis, Ind. 20013mo.

FOR SALE—One Shetland pony and colt buggy and harness. See John S. Davis at Davis Bros. Livery Barn. 2411f

OLD PAPERS—Nice clean newspapers—5 cents a large bundle at The Daily Republican office

WANTED—Young lady with fair education at Republican office. Call at office personally. Application over the phone not considered. 1f

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 427 W. Second St. Phone 3188. 2411f

FOR SALE—About 200 feet of second hand two inch gas pipe in good condition at 5c per foot. Good for tubular well, hitch racks, fence stringers, etc. Address Geo. B. Jones, Rushville, Ind. 24913

There are Several Reasons Why---

You see more of our Storm Buggies on the road than all the other makes combined. They are built to fill the requirements of the buggy users of Rush county. They are built of material that has given satisfaction and long road service to the user. They are nice proportioned and up to the minute in style. They are guaranteed to be right in every respect, and should there be anything wrong with a buggy we make it right. Then last, but a very essential part of this argument is the price we are able to make you on these buggies which means a saving of at least $10.00 on each ob you buy. These are some of the reasons why we sell the big per cent of the vehicles sold in Rush County today. The majority of people are going to buy where they can get the best value for their money and there is no exception to this rule. Get in line with the majority of the buggy users and buy your next one of

WILL SPIVEY at ONEAL BROS.

30 Per Cent Off On Anything in the Holiday Line ONE WEEK ONLY

Lytle's Drug Store

Phone 1038

The Rexall Store

A New Year Greeting

May the New Year be Bright with Prospects, and bring to You the full realization of Your Hopes and Plans, and indeed be a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

The Peoples National Bank
The Peoples Loan and Trust Company
Rushville, Indiana.

RUSHVILLE GETS BIG WALLOPING

Lebanon High School Walks Away
With Big End of One Sided
Score of 63 to 5.

LOCALS MAKE ONE FIELD GOAL

Rushville Totally Outclassed—First
Half Ends 36 to 1—Richmond
Here Saturday.

The fast Lebanon high school basketball team handed the local high school team an awful drubbing last night at Lebanon by the dilapidated score of 63 to 5. The locals went to Lebanon with very little confidence of winning, but hoped to keep the score down to a moderate calculation. Before the game was finished it was necessary to use an adding machine, as the score keeper ran out of chalk.

Rushville was outclassed in size and weight, and at the beginning of the game, Lebanon started off like a house afire, making goal after goal. The locals were weakened by the absence of a center, as Webb was unable to go. Coyne played this position and was outjumped. Ralph Martin, forward for the local team, was the most brilliant star, making all of the five points for Rushville. Three of these points were made from foul throws and only one field goal was made during the entire game. This came in the last half.

The Lebanon team used all of their players and subs in the game and considered it good practice, while the local boys considered it of educational value in enlarging their knowledge of basketball. The score at the end of the first half was 36 to 1; Rushville making their only point just before the whistle blew.

Richmond will be here Saturday night and the game will be called at seven-thirty sharp, in order that they can get home that night. The locals are confident of showing Richmond up and will probably take this game, with a few more hard practices before Saturday.

INDIANA TO HAVE FINE BUILDING

Hoosier Structure at Panama-Pacific Exposition is to be Attractive Design.

TO OCCUPY 27,500 SQUARE FEET

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 1.—No state in the Union will have a more attractively designed and situated building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915 than will Indiana. Some states will have larger buildings and will spend more money, but Indianans will not need to be ashamed of the state building according to the Indiana Exposition Committee.

The site of the Hoosier building is at the intersection of two thoroughfares. The building will have entrances on both boulevards. The site is of irregular shape but has 27,500 square feet. The building will take up a space 50x90 feet. Around all sides will be a grass plot thirty feet wide. The landscape work will be elaborate. The ground will be terraced and Indiana greenery will be used.

An effort will be made to incorporate in the construction the various important building materials from Indiana.

A library of books by Indiana authors will be arranged on the second floor of the building. Space also will be provided for an art gallery in which it is intended to have displayed paintings by Indiana artists.

THANKS HIS FRIENDS.

Clata L. Bebout, who retired yesterday as sheriff of Rush county, wishes to thank all those who have shown him courtesies during his two terms as sheriff. He especially desires to extend his sincere thanks to the lawyers who practice at the bar here and to all of the judges under whom he has served the last four years.

NO NEW CHAMPS IN BOXING GAME

Year Has Been a Slim One For the Prize Ring and Brought Out Nothing Worth While.

QUIMET COMES INTO FAME

Youngster Comes to Top in Golf Tournament—McLaughlin Again Leads Tennis Stars.

CHAMPIONS OF THE YEAR.

BOXING.

Lightweight—Willie Ritchie.
Heavyweight—Vacant.
Bantam—Johnny Culon.
Featherweight—Johnny Kilbane.
Middleweight—Disputed.
Welterweight—Disputed.

FOOTBALL.

Western Champion—Chicago.
Eastern Champion—Harvard.

BASEBALL.

World's Champions—Philadelphia Athletics.
Champions National League—New York Giants.
Voted Most Valuable Player National League—Jake Daubert.
Voted Most Valuable Player American League—Walter Johnson.

GOLF.

World's Champion—Francis Ouimet, Boston.
Woman's Champion—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, England.

TENNIS.

World's Champion, singles—A. F. Wilding, Australia.
American Champion, singles—Maurice McLaughlin.
Woman's Champion, singles—Miss Mary Browne, California.
Double Champions—Maurice McLaughlin and T. C. Bundy.
Davis Cup Winners—American team composed of: Maurice E. McLaughlin, R. Norris Williams and H. H. Hackett.

WRESTLING.

World's Champion—Frank Gotch.

POLO.

World's Champions—Meadowbrook Four.

RACING.

Champion Harness Horse—Uhlman.
Best runner, three years old and up—Cock o' the Walk, Flying Fairy, Duskin and Horren; Best two year olds—Pennant and Old Rosebud; Four year olds—Tracery and Prince Palestine. All ages—Broomstick II.

ROWING.

College Champions—Syracuse.

BY HAL SHERIDAN.

(By United Press.)

New York, Jan. 1.—As the Old Year dies and the New springs into being the sporting world stands poised and ready to hail any new champion that may appear. The old Year dies the New springs into ones will be forgotten with the passing of their star. New champions have flashed across the horizon within the past twelve months, but so far as anyone has been able to notice no flashes have come from the prize ring. A lot of money has been spent on the game, but it has been one of the leanest of years in bringing out anything really worth while.

Willie Ritchie has held on to his title of lightweight champion without much effort—and lose fighting. Johnny Kilbane has traveled about picking up easy money and easy fights and is still featherweight king. Johnny Coulon, batamweight, has been out of the running because of illness. Kid Williams, of Baltimore, and Eddie Campi both claim Johnny's title, but as Coulon is now getting ready to do business he must be disposed of before anyone will be satisfied.

The middleweight division is so badly crippled that there is little chance of picking up a loose string and tag it as leading to a champion. Jimmy Clabby, of Milwaukee, is probably as good as will be found in his class at present, while Bob McAllister of California, is promising. The welterweights are also tangled up with Mike Gibbons and Paaky McFarland standing out as the best. Gunboat Smith is generally considered the best of the heavyweights, but Smith is far away from being a champion. Two heavyweight fighters were killed during the year. Luther McCarty, won the "white heavyweight" championship belt by defeating Al Palzar at Los Angeles the first of the year, Luther was killed at Calgary May 24 in his fight with Arthur Polky. "Bull" Young died August 23 from effects of a blow delivered by Willard. McCarty's death left the way open for a general scramble for the title which has been righteously stripped from the negro Johnson by public opinion.

One of the most unexpected rises of a new champion was the dash of Francis Ouimet to the top of the golf heap. His defeat of Vardon and Ray, the English Cracks, in the open golf tournament was one of the greatest exhibitions in years.

Maurice E. McLaughlin again showed that he stands head and shoulders above other tennis players of the country. To him belongs most of the credit for the winning of the Davis Cup. The Meadow Brooke team successfully defended the International cup against the English during the summer, but again must resist an attack this year.

EUREKAS LOST.

The Milroy Eurekas ran up against a snag last night in the Joy and Gloom team of Indianapolis and as a result all that the Eurekas got was mostly gloom. The Indianapolis team won by the score of 31 to 29. The game was as close as the score indicates and was an exciting contest. A large crowd witnessed the game.

A Large Membership Began December 29th, 1913,

In Our Christmas Savings Club

Are You a Member? If not do you not want to join the Hundreds already in and create a fund for your Christmas of 1914

The 1 Cent
Class Pays
$12.75

The 2 Cent
Class Pays
$25.50

The 5 Cent
Class Pays
$63.75

We have other Classes to suit all Members

The sooner you Begin the easier it will be to Join. Start your Membership Today.

The Peoples Loan and Trust Co.
Rushville, Ind.

"The Home For Savings"

REV. C. M. YOCUM HOLDS RECORD

Continued from Page 1.

church at Milroy, and the Rev. J. Edgar Williams, pastor of the Friends church at Carthage, each performed four ceremonies for which licenses were issued.

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church since September, performed five ceremonies. The Rev. A. W. Jamieson, pastor of the U. P. church, officiated at seven marriages, and the Rev. J. P. Gillispie, a retired M. E. minister, officiated at three.

The Rev. M. W. Lyons, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, the Rev. John M. Binford and the Rev. J. J. Bare of Arlington, were the pastors at three marriages each.

The ministers who performed two marriages were: the Rev. H. D.

Sterrett, formerly of Glenwood but now the Rev. Joseph Scofield, the Rev. W. R. Jinnet of Manila, J. F. A. Mitchell of the Salvation Army, the Rev. W. H. Oldham of the Milroy Christian church, the Rev. A. G. Saunders, the Rev. H. P. Smith, the Rev. O. J. Mullen of Blue Ridge, and the Rev. F. Wilson Kaler of Andersonville. The last named, in addition to being the Christian pastor, is also editor of the Andersonville Herald.

Those who performed one ceremony were as follows: The Revs. U. M. McCreath, L. Tillison, J. S. Mettaker, Fred Ketter, K. L. Benson, Milo Smith, W. A. Mitchen Smith, W. A. Mitchen, W. A. Mitchell, F. W. Davis, J. L. Brown, F. L. Dennis, Alle Stith, W. S. Rollins, C. N. Wison, J. Waincott, Alphonso Burns, J. M. Cross, Ira P. Harbaugh and Elbert Russell.

Charles E. Walter has accepted a position as watch repairer at Kennard's jewelry store and began work today.

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Here is the Best Investment

For you who have received money as a Christmas present, let us suggest that you put it into a beautifully tailored suit or a warm and snug winter coat. Now is the time that your money will almost

Do Double Duty.

The assortment is ample, the fabrics and styles are up to the minute, and there is a wide variety of colors. We only ask that you grant us the opportunity of proving to you that we can

Save You Money

SLASHED PRICES.

Prevail now on all strictly holiday goods. If still there are friends to be remembered, it will pay you to investigate our prices. Perhaps there is some article you would like to have in your home—if so, take advantage of this underpricing.

FOR THE CHILDREN — We have about 25 dressed dolls left which we will sacrifice at a fraction of their value. Save the difference.

The Mauzy Company

The Corner Store

The Daylight Store

3002
Copyright 1913
by The H. Black Co.